SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Youths assembled amid an otherwise enthusiastic and cheering welcoming crowd splattered President Johnson's car with red paint bombs Saturday after his arrival for a meeting with chief executives of Central America.

The youths, with signs reading "Vietnam assassin," were on a hill overlooking the President's motorcade route from San Salvador's airport. About a dozen paint bombs were hurled at the car. At least two other cars in the motorcade were hit by the paint. Secret Service men ducked but stayed with the President. Newsmen scattered.

A press photographers' truck preceding the President's car was the target of at least two eggs. But the rest of the crowd cheered the President and waved American flags. Some of the crowd swarmed into the path of the motorcade and two jeeps of police and motorcycleists had to clear the way.

Johnson started out in the motorcade after saying in an airport statement that he had come to meet with the Central American leaders to find out "What more we can do together."

Police and National Guard units did not interfere with a students' march Friday night, but Col. Alberto Medrano of the National Guard pledged that he would not let the demonstrators disrupt Johnson's motorcade from the airport later today.

The students yelled "Get out of Vietnam," distributed leaflets urging people to "decorate" Johnson's face with eggs and carried placards referring to the summit meeting as "The Dragon and five mosquitos."

They are not Communists, just students," said another National Guard officer. "Look at the students in the United States, they are doing the same thing these days."

Earlier Friday four separate 21-gun salutes boomed as host President Fidel Sanchez Hernandez greeted President Joaquin Trejos Fernandez of Costa Rica, Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, Jilio Cesar Mendez Montenegro of Guatemala and Oswaldo Lopez Arellane of Honduras.

After their first meeting the five issued a declaration expressing concern over possible restrictions by more developed countries against Central American exports and urging that their countries pass jointly a tax on imports into Central America. Each president supported economic integration of the five coffee and sugar republics, currently faced with large foreign trade deficits.

Johnson will spend two days here, and will briefly visit the capitals of the other four participating presidents before returning to Washington on Monday. U.S. officials hope his 5,900-mile journey will spur economic progress in the Central American Common Market and help create similar economic mergers in other parts of the world.

Sun Passenger Service Will Be Expanded

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sun Airlines of St. Louis announced Friday it will increase its passenger service with a new air mail contract that calls for it to service 16 cities in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee.

The airline also announced that Lawrence W. Barber, a Baltimore banker, will head its new East Coast division.

Sun President George Caleshus said regional offices will be set up in Huntsville, Ala.; Memphis, and Tulsa.

The regularly scheduled passenger service will begin between cities served on the air mail routes, the existing Sun system and the recently acquired Florida Airways Inc. routes.

Cong Ambush Kills Two Troop Entertainers

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed four young American jazz musicians and an Army sergeant escort driving near Saigon today on an isolated road.

Two teen-age members of the group—Brandi Perry and the Bubble Machine—were killed when they tried surrendering with their hands in the air. Two others, including 20-year-old singer Paula Levine of North Hollywood, Calif., and a U.S. soldier were wounded.

"I played dead and that's the only reason I'm alive today," the attractive dark-haired Miss Levine said at the U.S. Army's 83rd Evacuation Hospital where she was treated for fragment wounds in the back and legs.

The others wounded were Jack Bone, 18, of Los Angeles, and a 21-year-old soldier escorting the group, who was in serious condition.

Identities of the dead were withheld until their families could be notified.

The musical group had started out late in the day for the Vietnamese coastal resort of Vung Tau, about 45 miles southeast of Saigon, to play for American troops. Halfway to their destination, they were stopped by South Vietnamese militia guards who advised them to turn back.

A few miles along on their return trip, they ran into the ambush. Miss Levine said she crouched on the floor while the men got out, first thinking they were being fired on mistakenly by friendly troops. As they raised their arms in the air, the Viet Cong opened up again.

On the northeast frontier, U.S. Marines charging through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire killed 78 North Vietnamese troops in a day-long battle Friday, the U.S. Command reported. Four Marines were killed and 42 wounded.

The Marines were sweeping coastal marshlands when they came under enemy fire. American artillery, tanks and divebombers joined the counterattack. The North Vietnamese pulled out at dark.

In other fighting in the northern war zone, U.S. troops reported killing 88 enemy soldiers. Three Americans were killed and 22 wounded, U.S. spokesmen said.

In Saigon, the Viet Cong unfurled three National Liberation Front flags, including one just a block from U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker's residence. Two other flags, booby trapped with grenades, were attached to trees in another district. Police said they captured two Viet Cong suspects.

Authorities said the flag incidents were probably intended to taunt the Saigon government by showing the presence of the enemy inside the capital city.

For weeks, Saigon has girded for a third major offensive by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. The attack had been expected late last month or this week, but new intelligence information reaching here Saturday indicated the attack may come before July 20 and possibly on July 15.

"There is going to be an attack before July 20th," the 14th anniversary of the signing of the Geneva accords which divided Vietnam, one source said. He said some informants had pinpointed the target date to July 15.

The enemy may be holding back now, military sources said, because of the recent discovery of large caches of enemy weapons and supplies outside Saigon.

U.S. infantrymen have found 55 Red Chinese-made 107mm rockets weighing about 50 pounds—each with a range of five miles.

The body of Menard was taken to a Farmington funeral home.

A family of nine from Annapolis was injured in a one car accident, Friday at 2 p.m. on route FF, at the junction of the old DesArc road, in Madison county.

Jewell Browne, 50, was driving a 1957 Ford station wagon, down a hill when the brakes failed. The car left the road, went through a fence, struck a farmer's gasoline tank and a tree before rolling over on its top.

Injured were the driver, fractured collarbone and cuts on knee; Connie Sue Browne, 13, cuts on her leg; Anita Browne, 28, fractured left hand and bruises; Deborah Browne, 11, fractured right ankle, cuts and bruises; Carol Browne, 24, fractured arm and cuts on face and legs; Paul, 19 months, and Bobby, four, both with a brain concussion; Charles, four, cuts on legs and head, and Cheryl Browne, seven, bruises.

All but Charles and Cheryl Browne were admitted to the Ironton hospital. The two were treated by an Ironton physician.

A passing car, which was taking the injured to the hospital, caught fire and burned. Ambulances finished the trip.

Six Treated for Arm, Leg Injuries

Six were treated for arm and leg injuries Friday at Missouri Delta Community hospital.

They turned their pickup truck toward Saigon and were singing to themselves.

"I thought I was hearing things. Then it came," Paula said, her hand twitching nervously.

"I was sitting in the middle of the front seat. The boy on my right was hit in the arm and when I realized that someone was shooting at us I remembered the advice someone gave me when I got here—whenever you hear a crack, duck!"

"I threw myself to the floorboards and as I did so I heard a splintering crash and something hit my back. Later I realized it was the shattering windshield that had hurt me," could not go any farther.

Johnson Begins 5-Nation Tour

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — President Johnson told the chief executives of Central America today he wants to know "what more we can do together."

Johnson, on the first leg of a journey that will make him the first U.S. president to visit all five Central American republics in a single trip, said in remarks prepared for his airport arrival at this, the smallest nation:

"I come to San Salvador to learn. I come to find out from my fellow presidents what our nations have achieved toward improving the lives of the people. I come to ask what more we can do together."

From the airport Johnson was to go by motorcade through streets where 2,000 public university students demonstrated Friday night against him and the presidents of El Salvador, Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua and Guatemala.

There were no incidents as the students marched down a main street in front of the U.S. Embassy, but leaders called for a bigger turnout today.

Some of the students carried placards calling Johnson "the murderer of Vietnam" and saying "Get out of Vietnam." Others referred to the summit meeting as "the dragon and five mosquitos."

National Guard troops pledged full security for Johnson's arrival.

By Monday night, Johnson will have visited all five countries comprising the full membership of the seven-year-old Central American Common Market.

In a few years, Johnson said, the five countries have virtually completed the market progress since Tuesday, was already accomplished. Foreign ministers and finance ministers labored through the region's humid rainy season to prepare a conference-ending declaration and other documents for signature by the presidents.

Generally regarded as a leadership and determination. Declaring that the goal, as much as anything is a state of mind, he asserted:

"If we all believe societies can and must change, they will. If we all believe that men can and must cooperate with each other to insure peace and progress, they will. If we all believe that poverty and misery, disease and injustice, can and must be eliminated, they will."

"I come to San Salvador knowing this. But I come to learn how we can hasten the day of progress."

Johnson's trip, his first out of the United States since his worldwide tour last December, followed a heavily latin-flavored July 4th weekend divided between work and relaxation at his ranch and a visit to HemisFair, the world exposition at San Antonio.

Much of the work of the common market meeting, in progress since Tuesday, was already accomplished. Foreign ministers and finance ministers labored through the region's humid rainy season to prepare a conference-ending declaration and other documents for signature by the presidents.

success, the regional common market represents a move toward economic integration and self-sufficiency that Johnson would like to see duplicated throughout Latin America, in Africa and Asia. In fact, the major purpose of his trip seemed to be to help dramatize his dedication to such goals.

There was no firm word on when Johnson would return to Washington, although the White House said the current plan was to fly back immediately following the airport stop in Guatemala. That would mean a portal-to-portal July 4th holiday weekend journey of 5,900 miles. However, there were some rumors, totally unconfirmed, that the chief executive might extend his tour.

Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci Johnson Nugent were accompanying him.

Johnson spent much of Friday doing homework for his tour. He also took time out for an informal luncheon meeting at the LBJ Ranch, 78 miles north of San Antonio, with President Rene Barrientos of Bolivia. The South American president was in Texas for observance of Bolivian National Day at San Antonio's HemisFair world exposition.

Johnson's last trip south of the border was a brief visit to Ciudad Juarez, sister city of El Paso, Tex., last fall. John F. Kennedy was the last to fly back immediately following the airport stop in Guatemala. That would mean a portal-to-portal July 4th holiday weekend journey of 5,900 miles. However, there were some rumors, totally unconfirmed, that the chief executive might extend his tour.

POOR CHARLIE SUGGESTS:

That you study the qualifications of Warren Hearnes for Governor.

Edward L. Dowd for Lt. Governor.

James C. Kirkpatrick for Secretary of State.

Russell Millin for Attorney General.

William E. Robinson for State Treasurer.

David Rolwing for Congress.

Tom Eagleton for United States Senator.

MEADOW BROOK

The brook runs slowly quietly now. Grass is thick on the banks above slow-moving water. Clumps of alders and willows shade peaceful pools. One can barely discern the current on a quiet, sun-lit day while bobolinks dart back and forth above the green fields.

A few weeks ago the water rushed full between brown banks. It showed the urgency of highland streams that tumbled down steep hillsides to the meadow. It seethed and swirled over rocky spots, and the steady pressure undercut banks where muskrats are now building new tunnel homes.

Every man should have a brook in his life. Even as a man can spend years studying a single massive tree through the seasons and not learn all its secrets, so can one spend hours by a meadow brook and never come to intimate knowledge of all its moods.

No two brooks sing the same music; no two are alike in all physical characteristics. But meadow brooks in early summer have certain traits in common. They speak of a purpose fulfilled; they offer peace to him who is wearied of the market place. Beside a meadow brook one can listen to quiet music and sense the underlying verities of a natural world. A meadow brook is not spectacular. But the countryman thinks as he watches and listens that life's deepest satisfactions are most often realized without superlatives.

A man's idea of a good time is to be an actor and not have to kiss his own wife as the leading lady.

Why worry about money? It will go away before you know it.

Citing rapidly accelerating labor costs and spiraling material prices, the chief executives of 15 major U. S. railroads told the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington that both service to the public at home and to our armed forces overseas will be severely jeopardized unless freight rates are promptly increased. They urged the Commission to approve modest but essential increases in freight rates and charges to provide adequate funds for running and improving the nation's railroads.

If you want to keep your friends, you must occasionally leave them alone.

It is surprising how many people there are in every town who violate city ordinances.

NO TIME FOR AN EXCUSE

What happened last week in Jefferson City when the Governor of Missouri opened a special session of the General Assembly is fairly typical of every legislative session in our state capital.

One of the main points of interest, at least from the standpoint of metropolitan legislators, was the need to solve the fiscal problems of St. Louis and Kansas City. This problem has been around for so long that any Jefferson City newsman worth his salt can write a story on the dilemma by pulling one out of his files of a year ago, five years ago, or even 25 years ago. Only the names and amounts are different.

The cities of this state are in bad shape - and no one knows it any better than the city politicians who caused the problems to begin with. The cities create many of their own problems and then blame the state legislature for not solving municipal foul-ups. Everyone in the cities conveniently forgets to mention that legislatures are supposed to deal with state-wide problems, not municipal ones, particularly those they didn't cause to begin with.

When Governor Hearnes convened the special session he, in effect, told the metropolitan legislators to devise any bills necessary that would solve their dilemmas. And what happened? The big-city boys cried that they hadn't been given enough time to come up with any bills. It was probably the only thing they could think of, but the explanation ranks right along with former Governor Smith's remark that he only discussed fishing when he met one time with the late Kansas City gangster Charlie Binaggio.

The cities' fiscal problems have been around for a long time and no one lacked adequate preparation. The metropolitan lawmakers only lacked time to think up a better excuse.

"I'M A DAMN FOOL"

"These people don't want to work."

This was the acid comment of James H. Clark, a Negro plumbing firm owner who single-handedly tried to install a sewer pipe into Resurrection City in Washington recently.

Clark rented ditchdigging equipment, did the work free. When he asked camp officials for some help in his volunteer project, no one came forward. A crowd of tent-city residents gathered around, but none would help. The sewer line was intended to prevent showers from making a quagmire of the camp grounds.

According to reports, as Clark labored on, alone, he spied a Poor Marcher and offered him a shovel. "Brother, I came down here to get away from shovels," was the reply. Desperate, Clark sought out camp officials to get the ditch filled. A bullhorn advised residents of the need for quick action. Nobody volunteered. The rains came. The ditch banks caved in. The trench became a mudhole. Clark finally said, "I am a damn fool."

One of the alleged aims of Resurrection City residents is the creation of three million new jobs. One steel company executive offered to get one of the residents a job in an Ohio foundry. The potential employee's wife said that he should have an executive job and not have to start in the mill, although the man admitted he had no skills.

We are beginning to understand why the Poor People's campaign isn't gaining support from most Americans - for it is just another handout which politicians brought on themselves with their promises.

The real solution in helping all people as well as the poor people includes work and more work.

A population expert has stated publicly what many an individual specimen of our booming population has thought to himself:

People would be better off if it weren't for people!

The population explosion is all very well for business, Dudley Kirk, director of the Population Council in New York, told a North American Wildlife Conference in San Francisco recently, but it does have its drawbacks.

The beauty of California, for instance, said Kirk, has been "smothered by smog, scarred by bulldozers, corroded by subdivisions, and put out of bounds by fear of fire and trampling human feet."

WHERE NUCLEAR POWER IS SAFE

Are you among those who still think that nuclear reactors for the production of electric power constitute a threat to the public safety? Numbers of people, whose minds hold vivid pictures of the destructive force of atomic bombs, apparently believe that.

An article by Neal Stanford in The Christian Science Monitor is reassuring: "Nuclear power reactors will not explode. So says the United States Atomic Energy Commission. Further, the commission says, the accident-frequency rate at the 16 nuclear power plants now in operation is presently only a third as high as the national industrial average."

The reason for that lies in the vast difference between a nuclear bomb and a nuclear power reactor. Mr. Stanford draws a simple and effective parallel. The difference is much like that between loose and packed gun-powder. If loose powder is sprinkled about and ignited, it will merely burn. But when confined in a shell and gun barrel under heavy compression it becomes an explosive.

There should be general understanding of this. More and more nuclear power plants are being built and planned. They are becoming an important part of our electricity - producing resources. Tremendous strides have been made both in technology and in the solving of economic problems. And they are safe.

PIGEONS VS. PROS

The passenger pigeon's extinction was not the result of calamities of nature, MacKinlay Kantor explains in the Catholic Digest. Professional market hunters accounted for the pigeon's final attrition.

DECORATIONS ON HATS

START IN STONE AGE
Cavemen are usually depicted as being bare-headed. Nevertheless, the Catholic Digest traces two features of men's hats to the Stone Age.

The tuft of hair resembling an inverted shaving brush sticking from the hatband of men's hats goes back to the primitive hunter who believed that wearing a piece of fur from his prey imparted the beast's strength and courage to him. The little bow on the inside of today's headgear represents the ancient hunter's custom of using a drawingstring within his hat to tighten it to proper size and to protect against losing it.

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON SAY: Godfather of the student revolt is Professor Marcuse of California; He is blasted by the Kremlin; He declares Marxism out of date

WASHINGTON — The Godfather of the student revolt now sweeping campuses all over the world is Prof. Herbert Marcuse of the University of California, San Diego campus. Marcuse is a German-born refugee from Hitler who teaches that revolution must come from young people. Both Communism and Capitalism, he preaches, are dead.

The influence which Prof. Marcuse has over the student world is illustrated by what happened at Brandeis University outside Boston when Axel Springer, the German publisher, donated $250,000 to found a chair to be known as the "Ottile Springer Professorship," in honor of his wife.

Brandeis is the leading Jewish university in the United States and Springer has been a great champion of Israel. Despite this, the student body and faculty voted to ignore the man who put up the quarter million dollars, and named the chair for Herbert Marcuse instead.

There was great irony in this vote. For few men in Germany have worked harder to atone for Hitler's crimes against the Jews than Springer. His far-flung newspapers have followed a vigorous pro-Israel policy, and he has made various gifts to Israel including one which founded Jerusalem's famous museum. Springer even laid the cornerstone for the museum. Yet the students of a Jewish university proposed ignoring his $250,000 gift in favor of Prof. Marcuse.

—WHO IS MARCUSE?—

What is the background of this leader of the current student revolt and why is he so influential? He is damned just as much in Moscow as in West Germany. In the latter, Chancellor Kiesinger blames him for the student "nihilistic" revolt. In the Kremlin he is accused of trying to substitute Mao Tse-Tung and Che Guevara for Marx and Lenin.

His latest maneuver is to propose that Red Rudi Dutschke, the Berlin student shot by Josef Backmann, a house painter who admires

Hitler, be admitted to the United States in order to demonstrate "American tolerance and academic freedom," in the same manner that the British temporarily admitted Daniel Cohn-Bendit, the French-German student who helped incite the paralyzing riots in France. It was Cohn-Bendit, incidentally, who is given credit for causing such a backlash in France that President De Gaulle was overwhelmingly reelected.

In the United States some observers predict that the backlash against the student strikes at Columbia, Berkeley and elsewhere will materially strengthen ex-Gov. George Wallace and throw the November election into the House of Representatives.

Prof. Marcuse visited Paris this spring at the invitation of UNESCO, to deliver the feature address at the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Karl Marx. While there, he went to Berlin where he called on Rudi Dutschke, still in the hospital, and reported that Dutschke was able to talk politics, but couldn't remember such words as table and chair.

It's ironic that Marcuse was invited to deliver the feature address in memory of Karl Marx, since his student proteges now denounce "communism as bourgeois" and since he has been excoriated by Pravda for preaching that Marxism is out of date.

For instance, the East German government, wanting to embarrass West Germany, invited the West German students, followers of Red Rudi and Prof. Marcuse, to travel through East Germany, supplying them with special railroad cars. The invitation boomeranged. The West German students flaunted banners taunting the East German government with following outmoded Communism.

Marcuse, now 70, fled Germany in 1934, two years after Hitler came into power. Today in his former country he is charged with advocating "dynamic Marxism," and with inspiring left-wing students of the "new left" against Axel Springer and the Bonn government.

It is sometimes said of Marcuse that the students who follow him haven't the slightest idea what he means. Personally he is charming, even lovable. He is very proper, quite ordinary in his habits, is sometimes described as being as homey as an old shoe.

His student followers say that basically he advocates change for the sake of change. He believes that in the present day society the elements of change have been subverted by the establishment, both the Capitalist establishment and the Communist establishment. Youth has to keep blasting away at the establishment, Marcuse theorizes, and this is one reason the students at Columbia revolted even after their original issue of the Vietnam war was killed by the Paris peace talks.

The world must have constant revolution, constant change, says the California professor who has attracted so many student followers in universities around the world. This is the creed that brings indignation from Moscow.

H.L. Hunt Says

SOVIET ESPIONAGE REVEALED

Throughout the years of Cold War, lax security procedures in the free world have allowed Soviet espionage agents to convey countless secrets to the Kremlin. Recent it was revealed that communists had infiltrated the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and individual western governments, doing serious damage to our own national security.

In 1961, a high Soviet official defected to the West giving our government detailed and frightening information regarding Soviet infiltration. The Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Central Intelligence Agency later confirmed his reports.

The United States government never publicly revealed the facts he disclosed about this spy network, but the knowledge was finally brought to light seven years later by LIFE Magazine story written by Philippe de Vojvodi, who was director of French intelligence in the United States until 1962.

The Soviet defector had revealed that communists had thoroughly infiltrated NATO headquarters. Top secret information was usually available to the Kremlin within forty-eight hours. Communists officials even ordered material that they especially wanted by using the same numbering system as NATO itself.

NATO governments were also told that Soviet agents had access to top secret information in Paris, Bonn, and Washington. The director of West Germany's intelligence operations for Iron Curtain countries was himself a Soviet agent who passed 15,000 documents to the Kremlin and betrayed 95 Western intelligence agents.

The citizens of this country have the right to know of this serious infiltration and the right to demand that security measures be tightened as much as necessary to preserve our national interests. HLH

An Editor's Outlook

By Jenkin Lloyd Jones

THE STUFF OF GREATNESS

ONE OF the most persistent delusions among Americans is the good will is the theory that "have-not" nations of the world are only waiting to take off as soon as the developed nations give them enough "infrastructure" and know-how.

Infrastructure is defined as those basic foundation stones—irrigation dams, electric power, roads and railways—without which know-how can't operate. There's obviously no point in putting in a cement plant if its machinery can't run nor its product get to market.

BUT WE have been assured that we are sufficiently generous these nations will soon reach the point where they will generate their own prosperity. To this end the American government had given away—not counting loans or military assistance—$57 billion.

The happy results of Western Europe under the Marshall Plan and the resurgence of war-wrecked Japan have often been cited as proof of the theory. Alas, it was no proof at all. It merely proved that the Western Europeans and the Japanese were capable of taking advantage of the aid and making it work.

GUNNAR MYRDAL, the Swedish sociologist, whose record as a long-time socialist abhors him of any charge of Horatio Algerism, this spring published a three-volume work, "Asian Drama: An Inquiry Into the Poverty of Nations." He concludes that until most "underdeveloped" nations change their basic habit patterns aid will be largely futile.

Myrdal points to corruption, mismanagement and superstition—not the lack of infrastructure and know-how—as

Dill-Davis Vows

EAST PRAIRIE—Miss Mary Elizabeth Dill and Larry Dee Davis were married, June 22 in an 8 p.m. double ring ceremony at the First Christian Church in East Prairie with Don Woodstock, minister, officiating.

Miss Dill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dill of East Prairie. Mr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Davis, also of East Prairie.

Miss Melinda Munson, organist, played nuptial selections and accompanied vocalist, Miss Marlys Davis, Cousin of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, James Davis of East Prairie, wore a white street length sleeveless gown of satin, fashioned with an empire waist with a lace jacket.

Miss Patsy Phillips served as the bride's maid of honor. Ronald Rudd of East Prairie served as best man.

Mrs. Dill, mother of the bride, chose an ensemble of beige with yellow accessories, complimented with a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Davis wore powder blue with white accessories and corsage of white carnations.

A reception for the newlyweds was held in the church fellowship room.

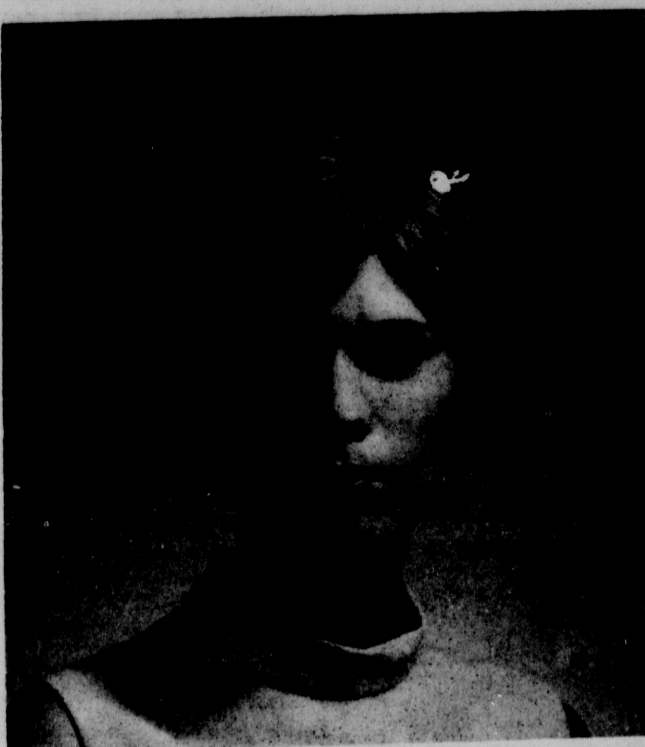

Following a short wedding trip the young couple returned to East Prairie and are now at home on South Center Street.

London's Downing Street, known for No. 10, the prime minister's home, was named after the man who originally constructed it. The World Almanac notes that Sir George Downing (1623-84), English soldier and politician, built the street on a grant from King Charles II. Interestingly enough, Downing was educated at Harvard College, becoming its second graduate.

Miss Street is a 1964 graduate of Sikeston high school. She will be graduated from Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau in August.

Miss McTigue Bride of Bobby Ditto

EAST PRAIRIE—The wedding of Miss Brenda Carol McTigue to Bobby Gene Ditto was solemnized last Saturday at 5 p.m. at the First Christian Church by the Rev. Don Woodstock.

Miss Martha Jean Gregory, accompanied at the organ by Miss Kathy Lucas, sang "Because" and at the close of the ceremony as the couple knelt, "The Lord's Prayer."

A 15 branch arch candelabra entwined with white mums and greenery and centered with an arrangement of white mums, adorned the chancel rail to which the bride was escorted by her father. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fremont McTigue and the bridegroom is the son of Golden Ditto, all of East Prairie.

For her wedding, the former Miss McTigue chose a street length gown fashioned of white linen in the A-line design, featuring full length sleeves of chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil of double illusion was attached to a white satin pill box. Her bridal bouquet was a cluster of white orchids attached to a white bible.

Miss Pam Hale, maid of honor, wore a street length empire style dress of pink linen accented by white lace insertions at the neckline and hem. Her fingertip veil of pink tulle was attached to a circlet of pink satin. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds.

Ditto chose as his best man, Gary Risenhoover.

The flower girl was Karen Helms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helms. She was dressed in pink organza and carried a basket of white rose petals. Ringbearer was Keith Chappell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Chappell. Serving as ushers were the bride's brothers, Bobby and Monty McTigue.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the church dining hall. The brides table laid with white linen was centered with a Bride Doll, graced on either side by pink tapers in silver candelabra. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Ronnie Parker. Assisting in serving during the reception was Miss Teresa Givens. The guest book attendant was Mrs. Jerry Keene.

The new Mrs. Ditto graduated from East Prairie High School in May. Mr. Ditto attended East Prairie high school and is now employed in Moline, Ill. where the young couple are now at home.

Bridal Showers Honors East Prairie Brides

Mrs. Haas Schneider, the former Mary Jane Gunther, was honored with a bridal shower June 25 at the Church of God, given by Mrs. Sue Thresher.

Mrs. Schneider was presented with a corsage of carnations and was seated in he guest of honor chair.

As the guests arrived, they placed their gifts on a low table decorated with a miniature bride. After Mrs. Davis opened her gifts, the glass doors to the enclosed patio were opened, revealing the lovely table decorated with yellow mums and greenery.

Mrs. Clevidence was assisted by Mrs. Ray Rowe. A special guest was Mrs. Lillard Davis, grandmother of Mrs. Davis.

The POWER of FAITH

Amos, third of the minor prophets in the canon of the Old Testament, was a social reformer, concerned with social behavior and ethics. He rebelled against the oppression of the poor by the powerful, against social immorality, intemperance and corruption.

He did not refer to God as the "God of Israel" but as the "Lord of Hosts." He believed that all nations were equal in the eyes of God and that Israel did not have a higher with God than the Ethiopians. (Amos 9:7)

He was a simple man, a shepherd and tender of fig trees. He lived with nature and had time to observe and contemplate the natural laws of God. It has been thought that Amos, with all his wrath, was a prophet of doom. But in Chapter 9 of the Book of Amos he prophesied the history of the Jew to the present day.

God said to him, "For lo, I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations like as corn is sifted in a sieve . . ." and He concluded, "... and I will bring again the captivity of My people of Israel and they shall build the waste cities and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God."

WANTED: MAN WITH EXPERIENCE

Experience is the actual living through of an event or events. One of the greatest problems of modern Christendom is too many substitute formal participation in religious activities for a personal relationship with Christ. Religion, then, loses vitality and becomes a meaningless treadmill. Why not try an experiment of faith and turn your life over to Christ? If He is real, He will certainly reveal Himself to you.

Manager Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox is sure of only one thing when he leads the American League against the National League in the All-Star Game at Houston Tuesday night.

Williams is certain he will have seven pitchers. What pitching condition they'll be in only time will tell.

"We'll be well represented at Houston," Williams said Thursday after being told of a statement by Danny McLain of the Detroit Tigers.

McLain, the league's only 15-game winner, said Wednesday night that the Detroit pitching rotation calls for him to go Sunday. He said if he pitches then he will be unable to pitch in the All-Star Game.

"We'll make adjustments, I'm sure, but this is something I think should be handled by Mr. Cronin's office," Williams said.

He referred to AL President Joe Cronin, who was not available for comment.

Williams said that as of the moment Luis Tiant of Cleveland will be the starting pitcher. He added, "However, it all depends on who pitches Sunday, the type of games pitchers are in and how long they go."

Williams had to make a shift in his All-Star staff Thursday when his ace, Jose Santiago, had to leave a game with Oakland in the third inning because of tendonitis in the right elbow.

Subject to approval by Cronin, Williams named right-hander Gary Bell, owner of a 6-3 record and a 2.73 earned run average, to replace Santiago, who must rest his ailing arm.

Area motorcycle riders are invited to participate in a group ride followed by competition events and a picnic.

Begin gathering at H & J Motor Sales, Inc., parking lot at 1:00 p.m., and leave from there at 1:30 on the dot! Detailed instructions will be posted on the front door so late-comers may join the group at the competition site.

Each motorcycle will be given a competition number tag and registered for all events upon payment of one dollar (at the parking lot before the scheduled 1:30 departure). Late-comers may pay, receive numbers and be registered at the competition site.

Awards will be given for each event, and one event will feature a rider-passenger team.

Floyd Patterson gets a chance in September to become a heavyweight boxing champion for the third time.

The New Yorker signed Thursday to meet Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title.

The fight will be held in the 52,000-seat Raasunda soccer stadium with Ellis defending the WBA crown he won last April by defeating Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

That was the final of the WBA elimination tourney to determine a successor to Cassius Clay.

Clay was stripped of title recognition by the WBA and the New York Athletic Commission when he refused military induction into the U.S. armed forces.

The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom.

Saints quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dicker with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Monastery Wedged into Cliff

THE GREEK ORTHODOX MONASTERY near Wadi Qelt is perched in the cliffs of a 600-foot gorge. Built 1,438 years ago, the monastery now houses eight monks.

JERICHO. Israeli-held Jordan (AP) — Three Middle East wars have swirled almost unnoticed around the hermit monks of Wadi Qelt.

They live in a remote monastery wedged into the cliffside of a 600-foot gorge in the desolate hills around Jericho.

The blue domes and pale adobe huts of the Greek Orthodox monastery of St. George were built 1,438 years ago by a Cypriot saint with money supplied by Byzantine Emperor Justinian. It once accommodated 600 monks, says the local guide-cook-handyman, a short, smiling Greek with snowy white hair, who prefers to remain anonymous.

About 300 were slaughtered by an invading Persian army in 614 A.D. Gradually the rest drifted away and today only eight remain. These work in nearby Jericho, in orange groves, and live in caves gouged out of the cliffside above the monastery.

Here they sleep, meditate and write.

Only a handful of visitors — mostly school children on tour — make the 45-minute walk down the narrow donkey path to the monastery. This path can be reached only with a strong car, via an ancient, bumpy, pot-holed, Roman-built road.

The monks themselves don't mind visitors, but refuse to be photographed. Women are permitted to visit the monastery, but not to stay there.

The father of the monastery, who is called St. George, has been living in a cave for 19 years.

He descends once a week to pray in the tiny chapel, decorated by frescoes and chandeliers from the 6th and 13th century, and smelling of incense.

The only sound to be heard at the monastery is the thunder of water down a stone aqueduct to the city of Jericho, 11 miles to the east.

The monks have lived under four different rulers in the past 60 years, and they say none of them has ever tried to interfere with their uneventful way of life.

"Nobody make trouble here," muttered the guide, who hasn't left the monastery for eight years. "Can't even get here."

QUICK QUIZ

Q—How did sailors come to be called "tars"?

A—In the days of sailing ships, sailors used to wear garments made of tarpaulin. This was a tar-impregnated cloth that was one of the first water-resistant fabrics. Sailors were first nicknamed "tarpaulins," which was soon shortened to "tars."

RESOLUTION

A resolution declaring the necessity for the construction of a 1/2" hotmix asphaltic pavement on 6" soil cement base with concrete curb and gutters on Jackson Street from Welter Drive to Jackson Street in accordance with plans and specifications in the City of Sikeston, Missouri; stating the nature of the improvement; the estimated cost; and providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: Section 1: That the Council of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said Street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because it shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. Section 2: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $4,600 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. Section 3: That payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the State of Missouri and the ordinances of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the City Council the General Revenue fund of the City of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefor on abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: Section 4: That any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the State of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. Section 5: That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this Resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Ann Landers

Daughter Can't Change Isolation of Father

Dear Ann Landers: I will be 16 in three weeks. My problem is my father. He has said exactly three things to me in the last five years. Please don't think I am exaggerating because I can tell you what they were.

The day after Christmas in 1963 he said, "Get off your fat rump and clean up the house. Or do you plan to let the boxes and wrapping paper lie around till next year?"

On January 2, 1964 he said, "I don't care if it was our party. Clean up the house."

I have tried to start a conversation with him many times but he ignores me or talks to me through someone else. For example, if I say, "How come your son doesn't match?" he'll say to my mother, "What is she bugging me about anyway?"

Please tell me how to deal with this problem. When I see other kids carry on conversations with their fathers I get very unhappy. -- IGNORED

Dear Ignored: Accept the fact that your father is no communicator -- probably never was and never will be. You are not going to change him so you'd better change your attitude. I feel sorry for a man who is so walled off from his children that he can't even speak to them. And one day I hope you will understand how said this is and that your resentment will turn to compassion.

Dear Ann Landers: I feel like I've been hit by a 10-ton truck. Please help me to understand what has happened to me.

Peter and I went together for nearly three years. We are not teenagers -- far from it. I am 25. Peter is 27. For the past two years I dated him and no one else. So far as I know, he was completely faithful to me also. Last February he gave me a diamond. We planned to be married in August.

We've been apartment hunting and made honeymoon plans. I've been buying linens and china.

Last night after dinner I felt something caught between my two front teeth. I took a toothpick and tried to dislodge what must have been a piece of chicken. Peter suddenly jumped out of his chair and said, "The wedding is off! I could never marry a woman whose manners are so poor that she would use a toothpick in my presence."

He then launched into a tirade about my upbringing and how all of a sudden he saw me as I really am -- uncouth, coarse, vulgar and "no lady!"

I burst into tears, handed him his ring and he left. Please help me understand. I am in a state of shock. -- WILTED ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Dear Wilted: A romance that could be felled by a toothpick wasn't much in the first place.

It should be obvious, even in your state of shock, that Peter used the toothpick episode as an excuse to crawl out of the commitment. Accept the fact that he lacks the maturity for marriage and consider yourself lucky to be rid of him.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage -- What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Said Weaver: "The University of Missouri will at all times defend the right of free expression of opinion, including the right of peaceful assembly...The university will not allow any unauthorized occupation of university facilities, nor will it permit any interference with its normal and regular activities."

Weaver added the statement applies to all four university campuses - Columbia, Kansas City, St. Louis and Rolla.

Duffner to Malden Church

MALDEN - The Rev. Fr. Ralph J. Duffner is the new pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Malden and St. Mary's Mission in Campbell.

Father Duffner succeeds Rev. William E. Donovan, who is serving the church at St. Teresa's in Glenonville.

Father Duffner is a native St. Louisian. He attended Cardinal Glennon College and the Kenrick Theological Seminary in St. Louis, and was ordained in 1956.

Prior to coming to St. Ann's he served as pastor of St. Susanne's Parish in Mr. Vernon, from 1960-1968, as well as with St. Patrick's Mission in Greenfield.

He also served as chaplain at the Missouri State Sanitarium in Mr. Vernon.

From 1956-1960 he served as associate pastor at St. Mary's Cathedral in Cape Girardeau.

Weaver to Tolerate No Disruptions

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - President John C. Weaver of the University of Missouri warned today the school will not tolerate any unlawful occupation of its buildings or other interference with normal activities.

Weaver, who said his statement had the unanimous support of the nine-member Board of Curators, said any student or employs who tries to disrupt university work faces immediate suspension and risks ultimate dismissal.

The university has had troubles of the type the president discussed, and his

Peach Harvest at Peak in Bootheel

CAMPBELL — The peach harvest, which got off to a start the last week in May, is nearing its peak in the Campbell area, according to Carlton Stewart, president of the Southeast Missouri District Peach Council.

Stewart and Jim Thornton, secretary of the council, report that Moore's Early Red variety began ripening the latter part of May and the first car lot was shipped on May 29. During June there were a number of varieties which came into harvest including Dixie Red, Cardinal, Jersey Land, Trio Gem, Red Haven and Rangers.

The peach growers, most of whom operate orchards on the famous 10-mile "circle" just north of Campbell, are of the opinion that the harvest this year will equal that of last year. The size of most varieties will not be quite as large as the 1967 crop, Stewart says, mainly because there was an extra heavy bloom and set on of fruit and explained. "Some real late varieties are shipped south where these varieties are not grown or have already been harvested and are in demand."

Peaches which will begin to be harvested next week include such varieties as the early Elbertas, Burbank, Southland and Hale Havens. During late July the Sullivan, Redskin, Snider and Jefferson varieties of Elbertas will be picked and shipped. Then in August will come the most popular peaches of the Elberta, Riosso Gem and Late Reds.

The Campbell area will join in celebrating their main industry with a Peach Festival to be held this year August 6 and 7. This will be the first year in the annual observance that the event will cover two days. There will be a contest for selecting the Little Miss Campbell and the Campbell Peach Queen. The Little Miss Campbell judging will be done on Tuesday night, Aug. 6; there will be music and other types of entertainment all day Wednesday, Aug. 7, with the event climaxed with the Peach Queen Contest that night.

Cotton Bloom At Malden

MALDEN — The first cotton bloom was reported Tuesday by Glen Thompson of Route One. Thompson farms the Vern W. Johnson land about 1 1/4 miles south of Malden on highway 25. The cotton is of the Auburn M variety and was planted April 22.

Thompson stated he had a good stand and expected a high yield.

15 Per Cent Pay Raise for Bluff Employees

POPLAR BLUFF — The City Council adopted a tentative budget, repealed sections of ordinances exempting industrial electric users from the new five per cent gross revenue tax, and passed bills authorizing the paving of 2,675 feet of streets.

The proposed budget of $592,353 is $62,672 over the current operating budget of the city primarily because it includes a 15 per cent pay increase for all non-elected city employees, Mayor Earl C. Porter told the council.

The tentative budget which will be given final approval on July 15, includes a tax levy of $2.10, 10 cents more than last year's levy. The levy increase resulted from the general obligation bonds to finance the new Vine Street Bridge, Mayor Porter said.

Irrigation Tour Set for July 16

A public irrigation tour will be held July 16 on two farms near Blodgett, in Scott County. The tour will begin at 8:45 a.m. at J. C. Ross' farm, formerly the Sherman McNew farm, to observe a 160-acre valley self-propelled automatic irrigation system.

A Water Winch automatic irrigation system will be observed on a farm operated by A. A. and Jim Johnson.

At noon a lunch will be provided at Benton.

Following lunch, a one-hour program on irrigation will be conducted.

The tour is sponsored by the Scott County University extension center and the Scott County Soil and Water Conservation district.

A COUNTY ASSET FOR NEW MADRID COUNTY

"AN ALL-AMERICAN COMMUNITY is one which, THROUGH IT'S PUBLIC SCHOOL TRADE EDUCATION PROGRAM has SKILLED LABOR AVAILABLE."

From the Commercial Appeal, Memphis, June 18th, 1968:
"The Memphis Area Vocational Technical School and the State Technical Institute at Memphis are solid evidence that, in the age of Computers, TECHNICAL SCHOOLS are more important than ever. These schools are turning out students from all back grounds with expert training in PRACTICAL SUBJECTS ranging from food marketing to color television, from medical bookkeeping to instrumentation engineering.

The old criticism that "trade schools" train people for obsolete jobs vanishes before the modern curricula of the schools and THE EASE WITH WHICH GRADUATES FIND WELL-PAYING POSITIONS. Employers are benefitting from the creation of efficient workers, and the Community has less "unemployables" and more useful, productive, self-sufficient citizens.

These two fine institutions are giving hundreds of young people what is a necessity in today's world -- A SALABLE SKILL. They deserve the support of all-government, business and citizens-- for they are serving the best interests of all."

The foregoing eloquently expresses the objective of the present movement for a school district large enough to permit the erection and maintenance of such a school, in New Madrid County.

The over-all school board membership should include one representative from each of the converging districts and communities, subject always to the will of the voters. A spirit of good will and sincere desire for better educational opportunity will prevent any abuse of equal representation from over the County.

The undersigned are satisfied that the best interests of each Community will remain adequately provided for on the one County School Board.

Since the next Regular Session of the State Legislature, in 1969, will probably enact a State-wide Master Plan of School Re-Organization, which will have to be accepted in order to get State Aid, and New Madrid County could be cut up and assigned to "Centers of Population" outside our County, thus becoming a Minority Group -- We suggest that it is better for us to congeal and thereby become large enough to meet the requirements of a New Law.

Respectfully Submitted,

Johnson Auto Hit By Paint

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Youth assembled amid an otherwise enthusiastic and cheering welcoming crowd splattered President Johnson's car with red paint bombs Saturday after his arrival for a meeting with chief executives of Central America.

The youths, with signs reading "Vietnam assassin," were on a hill overlooking the President's motorcade route from San Salvador's airport. About a dozen paint bombs were hurled at the car. At least two other cars in the motorcade were hit by the paint. Secret Service men ducked but stayed with the President. News men scattered.

A press photographers' truck preceding the President's car was the target of at least two eggs. But the rest of the crowd cheered the President and waved American flags. Some of the crowd swarmed into the path of the motorcade and two jeeps of police and motorcycleists had to clear the way.

Johnson started out in the motorcade after saying in an airport statement that he had come to meet with the Central American leaders to find out "What more we can do together."

Police and National Guard units did not interfere with a students' march Friday night, but Col. Alberto Medrane of the National Guard pledged that he would not let the demonstrators disrupt Johnson's motorcade from the airport later today.

The students yelled "Get out of Vietnam," distributed leaflets urging people to "decorate" Johnson's face with eggs and carried placards referring to the summit meeting as "The Dragon and five mosquitos."

They are not Communists, just students," said another National Guard officer. "Look at the students in the United States, they are doing the same thing these days."

Earlier Friday four separate 21-gun salutes boomed as host President Fidel Sanchez Hernandez greeted President Joaquin Trejos Fernandez of Costa Rica, Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, Jilio Cesar Mendez Montenegro of Guatemala and Oswaldo Lopez Arellano of Honduras.

After their first meeting the five issued a declaration expressing concern over possible restrictions by more developed countries against Central American exports and urging that their countries pass jointly a tax on imports into Central America. Each president supported economic integration of the five coffee and sugar republics, currently faced with large foreign trade deficits.

Johnson will spend two days here, and will briefly visit the capitals of the other four participating presidents before returning to Washington on Monday. U.S. officials hope his 5,900-mile journey will spur economic progress in the Central American Common Market and help create similar economic mergers in other parts of the world.

Sun Passenger Service Will Be Expanded

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sun Airlines of St. Louis announced Friday it will increase its passenger service with a new air mail contract that calls for it to service 16 cities in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee.

The airline also announced that Lawrence W. Barber, a Baltimore banker, will head its new East Coast division.

Sun President George Calushu said regional offices will be set up in Huntsville, Ala.; Memphis, and Tulsa.

The regularly scheduled passenger service will begin between cities served on the air mail routes, the existing Sun system and the recently acquired Florida Airways Inc. routes.

Cong Ambush Kills Two Troop Entertainers

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed four young American jazz musicians and an Army sergeant escort driving near Saigon today on an isolated road.

Two teen-age members of the group—Brandi Perry and the Bubble Machine—were killed when they tried surrendering with their hands in the air. Two others, including 20-year-old singer Paula Levine of North Hollywood, Calif., and a U.S. soldier were wounded.

"I played dead and that's the only reason I'm alive today," the attractive dark-haired Miss Levine said at the U.S. Army's 93rd Evacuation Hospital where she was treated for fragment wounds in the back and legs.

The others wounded were Jack Bone, 18, of Los Angeles, and a 21-year-old soldier escorting the group, who was in serious condition.

Identities of the dead were withheld until their families could be notified.

The musical group had started out late in the day for the Vietnamese coastal resort of Vung Tau, about 45 miles southeast of Saigon, to play for American troops. Halfway to their destination, they were stopped by South Vietnamese militia guards who advised them to turn back.

A few miles along on their return trip, they ran into the ambush. Miss Levine said she crouched on the floor while the men got out, first thinking they were being fired on mistakenly by friendly troops. As they raised their arms in the air, the Viet Cong opened up again.

On the northeast frontier, U.S. Marines charging through heavy enemy artillery and mortar fire killed 78 North Vietnamese troops in a day-long battle Friday, the U.S. Command reported. Four Marines were killed and 42 wounded.

The Marines were sweeping coastal marshlands when they came under enemy fire. American artillery, tanks and divebombers joined the counterattack. The North Vietnamese pulled out at dark.

In other fighting in the northern war zone, U.S. troops reported killing 68 enemy soldiers. Three Americans were killed and 22 wounded, U.S. spokesmen said.

In Saigon, the Viet Cong unfurled three National Liberation Front flags, including one just a block from U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker's residence. Two other flags, booby trapped with grenades, were attached to trees in another district. Police said they captured two Viet Cong suspects.

Authorities said the flag incidents were probably intended to taunt the Saigon government by showing the presence of the enemy inside the capital city.

For weeks, Saigon has girded for a third major offensive by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. The attack had been expected late last month or this week, but new intelligence information reaching here Saturday indicated the attack may come before July 20 and possibly on July 15.

"There is going to be an attack before July 20th," the 14th anniversary of the signing of the Geneva accords which divided Vietnam, one source said. He said some informants had pinpointed the target date to July 15.

The enemy may be holding back now, military sources said, because of the recent discovery of large caches of enemy weapons and supplies outside Saigon.

U.S. infantrymen have found 55 Red Chinese-made 107mm rockets weighing about 50 pounds—each with a range of five miles.

Two Teenagers Die After Separate Traffic Accidents

Two teenagers, passengers in two separate traffic accidents, died in the last 24 hours. Their deaths brought the Southeast Missouri Fourth of July holiday weekend toll of fatalities from accidents to five.

Ruby Louise Blankenship, 16, Advance, died as the result of injuries suffered in an accident Friday at 4 p.m. on route J, nine miles west of Advance at Acorn Ridge.

Pierre Menard, 19, Farmington, was dead on arrival at Madison County Memorial hospital in Fredericktown, as the result of injuries suffered in a one-car accident today at 1:15 a.m., on highway 72, six miles west of Fredericktown.

The Blankenship was a passenger in a 1955 Ford pickup truck driven by Ella Blankenship, 26, also of Advance.

Elmer Blankenship, 22, another passenger, received a serious back injury, while the third passenger, Paul Ann Blankenship, and the driver, received minor injuries.

The truck, hauling a horse, met another vehicle on a hill. In an attempt to miss the car, the truck went off the road into a ditch and turned over, throwing Ruby and Elmer Blankenship from the truck. The horse was injured.

The injured were taken to the St. Francis hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Miss Blankenship was born at Advance March 2, 1951.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Blankenship; Advance; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Slinkard and Linda Faye Blankenship, both of Advance; three brothers, Orville and Kenneth Blankenship, both of Advance, and Elmer Blankenship Jr., St. Louis; her paternal grandfather, J.L. Blankenship, Advance, and her stepgreat-grandmother, Mrs. Lou Phillips, Bell City.

Services will be at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at Morgan Funeral Home at Advance with the Rev. Homer Campbell officiating.

Burial will be in Morgan Memorial Park Cemetery at Advance.

Menard was a passenger in a 1967 Opel Cadette, driven by Wayne Straughn, 19, Bonne Terre.

Straughn suffered head injuries and cuts on his forehead, and was transferred unconscious to Barnes hospital in St. Louis.

The patrol said the speeding car failed to make a curve, went down an embankment and overturned on its top. It was necessary to cut seat belts to get the two out of the wreckage.

The body of Menard was taken to a Farmington funeral home.

A family of nine from Annapolis was injured in a one car accident, Friday at 2 p.m. on route FF, at the junction of the old DesArc road, in Madison county.

Jewell Browne, 50, was driving a 1957 Ford station wagon, down a hill when the brakes failed. The car left the road, went through a fence, struck a farmer's gasoline tank and a tree before rolling over on its top.

Injured were, the driver, fractured collarbone and cuts on knee; Connie Sue Browne, 13, cuts on her leg; Anita Browne, 28, fractured left hand and bruises; Deborah Browne, 11, fractured right ankle, cuts and bruises; Carol Browne, 24, fractured arm and cuts on face and legs; Paul, 19 months, and Bobby, four, both with a brain concussion; Charles, four, cuts on legs and head, and Cheryl Browne, seven, bruises.

All but Charles and Cheryl Browne were admitted to the Ironton hospital. The two were treated by an Ironton physician.

A passing car, which was taking the injured to the hospital, caught fire and burned. Ambulances finished the trip.

Johnson Begins 5-Nation Tour

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — President Johnson told the chief executives of Central America today he wants to know "what more we can do together."

Johnson, on the first leg of a journey that will make him the first U.S. president to visit all five Central American republics in a single trip, said in remarks prepared for his airport arrival at this, the smallest nation:

"I come to San Salvador to learn. I come to find out from my fellow presidents what our nations have achieved toward improving the lives of the people. I come to ask what more we can do together."

From the airport Johnson was to go by motorcade through streets where 2,000 public university students demonstrated Friday night against him and the presidents of El Salvador, Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua and Guatemala.

There were no incidents as the students marched down a main street in front of the U.S. Embassy, but leaders called for a bigger turnout today.

Some of the students carried placards calling Johnson "the murderer of Vietnam" and saying "Get out of Vietnam." Others referred to the summit meeting as "the dragon and five mosquitos."

National Guard troops pledged full security for Johnson's arrival.

By Monday night, Johnson will have visited all five countries comprising the full membership of the seven-year-old Central American Common Market.

In a few years, Johnson said, the five countries have virtually completed the market framework and "have moved beyond the purely economic aspects of integration to produce important social advances."

He pointed to U.S. contributions to the area's selfhelp effort but said "it must always be so" that the Central Americans themselves provide leadership and determination. Declaring that the goal, as much as anything is a state of mind, he asserted:

"If we all believe societies can and must change, they will. If we all believe that men can and must cooperate with each other to insure peace and progress, they will."

"If we all believe that poverty and misery, disease and injustice, can and must be eliminated, they will."

"I come to San Salvador knowing this. But I come to learn how we can hasten the day of progress."

Johnson's trip, his first out of the United States since his worldwide tour last December, followed a heavily latin-flavored July 4th weekend divided between work and relaxation at his ranch and a visit to HemisFair, the world exposition

Much of the work of the common market meeting, in progress since Tuesday, was already accomplished. Foreign ministers and finance ministers labored through the region's humid rainy season to prepare a conference-ending declaration and other documents for signature by the presidents.

Generally regarded as a success, the regional common market represents a move toward economic integration and self-sufficiency that Johnson would like to see duplicated throughout Latin America, in Africa and Asia. In fact, the major purpose of his trip seemed to be to help dramatize his dedication to such goals.

There was no firm word on when Johnson would return to Washington, although the White House said the current plan was to fly back immediately following the airport stop in Guatemala. That would mean a portal-to-portal July 4th holiday weekend journey of 5,900 miles. However, there were some rumors, totally unconfirmed, that the chief executive might extend his tour.

Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci Johnson Nugent were accompanying him.

Johnson spent much of Friday doing homework for his tour. He also took time out for an informal luncheon meeting at the LBJ Ranch, 75 miles north of San Antonio, with President Rene Barrientos of Bolivia. The South American president was in Texas for observance of Bolivian National Day at San Antonio's HemisFair world exposition.

The Johnsons will attend Roman Catholic Church services in San Salvador Sunday, appear before the staff of the U.S. Embassy, join the other presidents and their families for a countryside barbecue and act as hosts to the others at an evening reception.

Johnson's last trip south of the border was a brief visit to the Mexican border town of Ciudad Juarez, sister city of El Paso, Tex., last fall. John F. Kennedy was the last presidential visitor to Central America, meeting with the presidents of the five nations plus Panama in Costa Rica early in 1963.

Johnson's last trip out of the country was his worldwide tour in December which took him to Australia, Vietnam and Rome.

Rockefeller Views Open Convention

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says there are enough uncommitted delegates to assure an "open convention" when the Republican Party meets in Miami Beach next month to pick a presidential candidate.

"Today there are over 200 uncommitted delegates," he said Friday as he met with reporters while vacationing in Hawaii.

These fence-sitters "are shifting all over the country," the New York governor said.

Rockefeller said that if he loses the fight for the nomination he will support the winner, whether it be Richard M. Nixon or any other Republican.

In the meantime, he said, he is unfazed by charges that he is sowing disunity in the party.

"I'm simply repeating what he said in writing and speeches and pointing out where I differ with him," he said of Nixon. "I am trying to offer a choice to the Republican Party—and to have a choice there has got to be differences."

Rockefeller conferred briefly with Hawaii's GOP convention delegates, but the other major presidential contenders treated Friday as a day of abstention from speechmaking and public political muscle-flexing.

They unwound in places and ways of their own choosing. Nixon in Miami, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Washington and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, McCarthy's rival for the Democratic nomination, in Minnesota.

It was a rare cease-fire, perhaps the last until November. Nixon said Friday night as he attended a quiet 20th birthday dinner for daughter Julie that this weekend would be the last plateau and that from now on he will be working nonstop.

Humphrey relaxed at his lakeside home in Waverly, Minn., but planned to mount the stump again tonight in Poplar Bluff, Mo., for a Truman Day rally.

George Wallace, American Independent Party candidate, was also booked for a speech tonight in Dayton, Ohio.

Humphrey wrote Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., chairman of the platform committee for the Democratic national convention, urging that hearings be held throughout the nation so that all segments of opinion in the party can be sampled before the platform is drafted.

"If we are to make clear that our party is fully aware of the currents of change which are running swiftly in America and the world, and that it is truly responsible to the needs and problems of the future," he said, "I believe every Democrat must have a full vote in the shaping of our 1968 platform."

$13,000 U.S. Grant

For Medical Services for Poor

PORTAGEVILLE — A $13,000 federal grant to the Delta Area Economic Opportunity Corporation, for a supplemental medical services program has been approved by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Don Thomason, director of OEO's North central Region, headquartered at Kansas City, said the supplemental program aims at providing needed medical support services for an emergency food program previously funded by OEO for the six southeastern Missouri counties of Scott, Stoddard, Pemiscot, Mississippi, Dunklin and New Madrid.

The supplemental grant is for five months. During this time, 1,000 poor will receive medical examinations and 500 low-income residents of the six-county area will receive follow-up services.

Charles Fleer is director of the program.

FIRST COTTON BLOOM brought in to the Daily Standard was picked from the Howard and Wilson Pearson farm, five miles southwest of Sikeston on the Brown Spur road. The cotton was planted in late April and is of the Auburn M variety. The bloom was found by David Pearson, left, and his neighbor, Terry Lape, who lives on an adjoining farm. The Pearsons have a good stand on 100 acres in cotton.

Father and Two Children Die in Boating Mishap

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — The bodies of two small children have been recovered and their father is still missing following a collision Friday night of a boat and a barge in the Mississippi River.

Authorities said a 16-foot boat carrying the Norman Peters family of Quincy crashed into the barge above the railroad bridge at Quincy.

Witnesses said workmen on the barge jumped overboard and rescued Mrs. Sylvia Peters and her four-year-old daughter Christine. They also recovered the body of three-year-old Donny Peters.

The Quincy rescue unit and the Mark Twin Emergency Squad of Hannibal, Mo., recovered the body of two-year-old Collette Peters early today. They were continuing a search for the father, Norman Peters, 28.

Mrs. Peters was taken to a Quincy hospital in fair condition. Christine was treated and released.

Trio Holds Up Bluff Market

POPLAR BLUFF — The state patrol reported a robbery Friday at 11:30 p.m. of the Main Street Market, at Spring street. Three Negroes, armed with a pistol, held up the owner and made off with between $100 and $125 in cash and checks.

The three escaped on foot.

"A bullet smashed into my hand and knocked me into the ditch. The two other boys were killed."

Also wounded at this time was a young Army sergeant who

Evasion Trial Set

ST. LOUIS (AP) — United States Dist. Court Judge Roy W. Harper has scheduled for Sept. 9 the trial of Harold G. Fallert, accused of not filing income tax returns for the years 1962 through 1965.

Fallert, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., pleaded innocent Friday to the charges. The alleged income amounted to $102,952.

The accusation against the certified public accountant was made in criminal informations filed by assistant U.S. Atty. Irwin Ruzicka.

Desire to Hurry Career Led Girl Singer to Vietnam

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — Paula Levine is a winsome, dark-haired 20-year-old entertainer who figured she could make a bigger mark as a pop singer by going to Vietnam than by any other route.

"After all, they told me it wasn't dangerous out here, that nothing would happen to us, and they said there would be plenty of bookings and a lot of exposure," Paula said bitterly as she sat on the edge of an Army player completed the Bubble Machine.

They never had seen each other before May but by June 11, dangerous, she said, "The agent when they arrived in Vietnam for American entertainment for a two-month tour, they were abroad, the people who brought a 'happy family,' Paula said, as out here."

"That was how 'Brandi Perry and the Bubble Machine' was born. Paula—who is 'Brandi'—had an audition with an organization handling entertainment in Vietnam and, after she sang a couple of songs, the agent said, 'Get yourself a trio, you've got yourself a show.'"

Blond Jack Bone, 18, joined as an organist. A 17-year-old drummer and a 19-year-old bass player completed the Bubble Machine.

These kids were like my brothers."

On Friday night, the bubble burst.

In a month traveling to bases around Saigon and in the Mekong Delta to the south, the musicians had learned that the GIs they entertained looked forward with great anticipation to the occasional shows that came their way. That is why the group was driving to the coastal resort of Vung Tau in the late dusk Friday.

Highway 15 is notorious for Viet Cong incidents and several persons have been kidnapped along it recently. South Vietnamese militiamen had a roadblock up Friday and the musicians, about halfway to their destination, were told they could not go any farther.

They turned their pickup truck back toward Saigon and were singing to themselves.

"I thought I was hearing things. Then it came," Paula said, her hand twitching nervously.

"I was sitting in the middle of the front seat. The boy on my right was hit in the arm and when I realized that someone was shooting at us I remembered the advice someone gave me when I got here—whenever you hear a crack, duck!"

"I threw myself to the floorboards and as I did so I heard a splintering crash and something hit my back. Later I realized it was the shattering windshield that had hurt me," she said.

Bone, in a back seat, said the headlights picked out five or six people holding guns on the road ahead of them.

"We stopped, or tried to, and the pickup ran off the road," he said. "We thought they were our soldiers firing at us in mistake. Three of us jumped out into the roadway and started shouting that we were Americans and for them to stop firing. They just stood there and fired at us point blank about five yards away."

"A bullet smashed into my hand and knocked me into the ditch. The two other boys were killed."

Also wounded at this time was a young Army sergeant who had volunteered to drive with the group to Vung Tau.

Paula said the guerrillas rummaged through the truck and the three survivors played dead. The guerrillas took wallets, ID cards and airplane tickets the men were carrying but did not touch Paula.

"Maybe they didn't see me," she said. "If they had I think they would have killed me, or at least stolen my jewelry."

"I wore a golden Star of David around my neck that my parents had given me. I would never have let them take that. Up to that moment I had not been very religious," Paula added.

Menard was a passenger in a 1967 Opel Cadette, driven by Wayne Straughn, 19, Bonne Terre.

Straughn suffered head injuries and cuts on his forehead, and was transferred unconscious from the Fredericktown hospital to Barnes hospital in St. Louis.

The patrol said the speeding car failed to make a curve, went down an embankment and overturned on its top. It was necessary to cut seat belts to get the two out of the wreckage.

A family of nine from Annapolis was injured in a one car accident, Friday at 2 p.m. on route FF, at the junction of the old DesArc road, in Madison county.

Jewell Browne, 50, was driving a 1957 Ford station wagon, down a hill when the brakes failed. The car left the road, went through a fence, struck a farmer's gasoline tank and a tree before rolling over on its top.

Injured were, the driver, fractured collarbone and cuts on knee; Connie Sue Browne, 13, cuts on her leg; Anita Browne, 28, fractured left hand and bruises; Deborah Browne, 11, fractured right ankle, cuts and bruises; Carol Browne, 24, fractured arm and cuts on face and legs; Paul, 19 months, and Bobby, four, both with a brain concussion; Charles, four, cuts on legs and head, and Cheryl Browne, seven, bruises.

All but Charles and Cheryl Johnson, cut right thumb on Coke bottle, Velma Harvell, Ironton hospital. The two were treated by an Ironton physician.

A passing car, which was taking the injured to the hospital, caught fire and burned. Ambulances finished the trip.

Johnson Begins 5-Nation Tour

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — President Johnson told the chief executives of Central America today he wants to know "what more we can do together."

Johnson, on the first leg of a journey that will make him the first U.S. president to visit all five Central American republics in a single trip, said in remarks prepared for his airport arrival at this, the smallest nation.

"I come to San Salvador to learn. I come to find out from my fellow presidents what our nations have achieved toward improving the lives of the people. I come to ask what more we can do together."

From the airport Johnson was to go by motorcade through streets where 2,000 public

Blaiberg Pronounced 'Very Ill'

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, who has lived more than six months with a transplanted heart, is "very ill" with a lung affliction, Groote Schuur Hospital said today.

The hospital had announced Friday that pulmonary complications "are giving rise to concern." Medical Supt. Dr. Jacobus Burger said today Blaiberg still was very ill.

In addition to the lung trouble, so far not specified, Blaiberg is recovering from hepatitis. The hospital said the liver condition was improving and unofficial reports said he enjoyed a hearty meal including eggs and cheese Friday.

But when the lung problem struck, hospital staff kept at all-night watch in his sterilized room.

Blaiberg, 59, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, received the new organ Jan. 2 in an operation performed by Dr. Christian N. Barnard who pioneered such surgery.

To date 24 heart transplants have been performed in nine countries and Blaiberg is one of seven surviving recipients. Two months after his transplant, Blaiberg was driving his car on downtown shopping expeditions.

Doctors discovered Blaiberg had hepatitis when he returned to the hospital for routine tests in May. At one time his condition deteriorated to the point where doctors feared for his life, and Dr. Barnard interrupted an overseas trip to rush to his bedside.

The new complication in Blaiberg's case developed little more than a week before a conference of heart transplant surgeons in Cape Town, site of the world's first transplant operation seven months ago.

Barnard performed the operation Dec. 3, 1967, on Louis Washkansky, who died of pneumonia 17 days later.

Barnard will host the July 13th symposium, expected to attract Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, who performed the first heart transplant in the United States, and Dr. Denton A. Cooley of Houston, Tex., who has performed more heart grafts than any other surgeon.

In Canada, the Montreal Heart Institute said Gaetan Paris, the world's 22nd heart recipient, is recovering so rapidly since his June 28 operation that no further medical bulletins would be issued.

Six Treated for Arm, Leg Injuries

Six were treated for arm and leg injuries Friday at Missouri Delta Community hospital:

Frederick Butler, burned right hand on exhaust; John Johnson, cut right thumb on Coke bottle; Velma Harvell, Ironton hospital. The two were treated by an Ironton physician.

There was no firm word on when Johnson would return to Washington, although the White House said the current plan was to fly back immediately following the airport stop in Guatemala. That would mean a portal-to-portal July 4th holiday weekend journey of 5,900 miles.

However, there were some rumors, totally unconfirmed, that the chief executive might extend his tour.

He also took time out for an informal luncheon meeting at the LBJ Ranch, 75 miles north of San Antonio, with President Rene Barrientos of Bolivia. MEADOW BROOK
The brook runs quietly now. Grass is thick on the banks above slow-moving water. Clumps of alders and willows shade peaceful pools. One can barely discern the current on a quiet, sun-lit day while bobolinks dart back and forth above the green fields.

A few weeks ago the water rushed full between brown banks. It showed the urgency of highland streams that tumbled down steep hillsides to the meadow. It seethed and swirled over rocky spots, and the steady pressure undercut banks where muskrats are now building new tunnel homes.

Every man should have a brook in his life. Even as a man can spend years studying a single massive tree through the seasons and not learn all its secrets, so can one spend hours by a meadow brook and never come to intimate knowledge of all its moods.

No two brooks sing the same music; no two are alike in all physical characteristics. But meadow brooks in early summer have certain traits in common. They speak of a purpose fulfilled; they offer peace to him who is wearied of the market place. Beside a meadow brook one can listen to quiet music and sense the underlying verities of a natural world. A meadow brook is not spectacular. But the countryman thinks as he watches and listens that life's deepest satisfactions are most often realized without superlatives.

Citing rapidly accelerating labor costs and spiraling material prices, the chief executives of 15 major U. S. railroads told the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington that both service to the public at home and to our armed forces overseas will be severely jeopardized unless freight rates are promptly increased. They urged the Commission to approve modest but essential increases in freight rates and charges to provide adequate funds for running and improving the nation's railroads.

NO TIME FOR AN EXCUSE
What happened last week in Jefferson City when the Governor of Missouri opened a special session of the General Assembly is fairly typical of every legislative session in our state capital.

One of the main points of interest, at least from the standpoint of metropolitan legislators, was the need to solve the fiscal problems of St. Louis and Kansas City. This problem has been around for so long that any Jefferson City newsman worth his salt can write a story on the dilemma by pulling one out of his files of a year ago, five years ago, or even 25 years ago. Only the names and amounts are different.

The cities of this state are in bad shape - and no one knows it any better than the city politicians who caused the problems to begin with. The cities create many of their own problems and then blame the state legislature for not solving municipal foul-ups. Everyone in the cities conveniently forgets to mention that legislatures are supposed to deal with state-wide problems, not municipal ones, particularly those they didn't cause to begin with.

When Governor Hearnes convened the special session he, in effect, told the metropolitan legislators to devise any bills necessary that would solve their dilemmas. And what happened? The big-city boys cried that they hadn't been given enough time to come up with any bills. It was probably the only thing they could think of, but the explanation ranks right along with former Governor Smith's remark that he only discussed fishing when he met one time with the late Kansas City gangster Charlie Binaggio.

The cities' fiscal problems have been around for a long time and no one lacked adequate preparation. The metropolitan lawmakers only lacked time to think up a better excuse.

We will never understand what the hell difference it makes whether or not Hanoi has troops in South Vietnam.

Of all the assinine things to argue about in our peace-seeking efforts, that to us is one of them.

If the North Vietnam officials don't start killing turkey maybe we should do to Hanoi what their troops are doing to Saigon.

"I'M A DAMN FOOL"
"These people don't want to work."
This was the acid comment of James H. Clark, a Negro plumbing firm owner who single-handedly tried to install a sewer pipe into Resurrection City in Washington recently.

Clark rented ditchdigging equipment, did the work free. When he asked camp officials for some help in his volunteer project, no one came forward. A crowd of tent-city residents gathered around, but none would help. The sewer line was intended to prevent showers from making a quagmire of the camp grounds.

According to reports, as Clark labored on, alone, he spied a Poor Marcher and offered him a shovel. "Brother, I came down here to get away from shovels," was the reply. Desperate, Clark sought out camp officials to get the ditch filled. A bullhorn advised residents of the need for quick action. Nobody volunteered. The rains came. The ditch banks caved in. The trench became a mudhole. Clark finally said, "I am a damn fool."

One of the alleged aims of Resurrection City residents is the creation of three million new jobs. One steel company executive offered to get one of the residents a job in an Ohio foundry. The potential employee's wife said that he should have an executive job and not have to start in the mill, although the man admitted he had no skills.

We are beginning to understand why the Poor People's campaign isn't gaining support from most Americans - for it is just another handout which politicians brought on themselves with their promises.

The real solution in helping all people as well as the poor people includes work and more work.

PEOPLE: THE PROBLEM KIDS
A population expert has stated publicly what many an individual specimen of our booming population has thought to himself:

People would be better off if it weren't for people!

The population explosion is all very well for business, Dudley Kirk, director of the Population Council in New York, told a North American Wildlife Conference in San Francisco recently, but it does have its drawbacks.

The beauty of California, for instance, said Kirk, has been "smothered by smog, scarred by bulldozers, corroded by subdivisions, and put out of bounds by fear of fire and trampling human feet."

Yet, he pointed out, all this unpleasantness has brought profits and a good living to many people.

It adds up to a tough problem - especially since humans haven't come up so far with a really effective plan to stop humans from producing humans so prodigiously.

It brings to mind the oft-quoted discovery that most of the people who favor birth control have already been born. It also proves again that people are more capable than anyone of outsmarting themselves.

POLLUTION-FREE CARS HELD GOAL
Chairman Albert L. Nickerson of Mobil Oil Corp. told stockholders at the company's annual meeting recently in Los Angeles that the gasoline-powered, piston-engine automobile will be made essentially pollution-free before electric cars can be made practical.

The most nearly practical car that could be built today, Mr. Nickerson said, would probably be smaller than present-day compacts, would be able to travel not more than 50 miles without recharging, and would require several hours to recharge. It would have a top speed of 40 miles an hour, and probably would cost at least $1,000 more than present-day small cars.

In contrast to this, he continued, research is proceeding to make the piston engine, "with all of its convenience, high performance characteristics, and relatively low cost, virtually pollution-free."

"Our specific objective," he asserted, "is to achieve markedly lower pollution levels than the standards California has proposed for 1970, which are the toughest anywhere."

MILLION $ DISGRACE
Joseph Kesselring, the author of "Arsenic and Old Lace" was dead. He had written an important dramatic play. The producers kept him away from rehearsals, when he saw the results on opening night he stomped out of the theatre. The play turned out to be one of Broadway's biggest comedy hits - much to Kesselring's chagrin. He made a million dollars but never wrote another play.

The Britisher decided to pull the tale on his countryman: "My parents had a baby. It wasn't my brother or my sister. Who was it?"

His friend gave up and the joker came back with the solution: "The room clerk at the New Yorker Hotel."

WHERE NUCLEAR POWER IS SAFE
Are you among those who still think that nuclear reactors for the production of electric power constitute a threat to the public safety? Numbers of people, whose minds hold vivid pictures of the destructive force of atomic bombs, apparently believe that.

An article by Neal Stanford in The Christian Science Monitor is reassuring: "Nuclear power reactors will not explode. So says the United States Atomic Energy Commission. Further, the commission says, the accident-frequency rate at the 16 nuclear power plants now in operation is presently only a third as high as the national industrial average."

The reason for that lies in the vast difference between a nuclear bomb and a nuclear power reactor. Mr. Stanford draws a simple and effective parallel. The difference is much like that between loose and packed gun-powder. If loose powder is sprinkled about and ignited, it will merely burn. But when confined in a shell and gun barrel under heavy compression it becomes an explosive.

There should be general understanding of this. More and more nuclear power plants are being built and planned. They are becoming an important part of our electricity-producing resources. Tremendous strides have been made both in technology and in the solving of economic problems. And they are safe.

Cavemen are usually depicted as being bare-headed. Nevertheless, the Catholic Digest traces two features of men's hat to the Stone Age.

The tuft of hair resembling an inverted shaving brush sticking from the husband of men's hats goes back to the primitive hunter who believed that wearing a piece of fur from his prey imparted the beast's strength and courage to him.

The little bow on the inside of today's headgear represents the ancient hunter's custom of using a drawstring within his hat to tighten it to proper size and to protect against losing it.

Hitler, be admitted to the United States in order to demonstrate "American tolerance and academic freedom," in the same manner that the British temporarily admitted Daniel Cohn-Bendit, the French-German student who helped incite the paralyzing riots in France. It was Cohn-Bendit, incidentally, who is given credit for causing such a backlash in France that President De Gaulle was overwhelmingly reelected.

In the United States some observers predict that the backlash against the student strikes at Columbia, Berkeley and elsewhere will materially strengthen ex-Gov. George Wallace and throw the House of Representatives.

Prof. Marcuse visited Paris this spring at the invitation of UNESCO to deliver the feature address at the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Karl Marx. While there, he went to Berlin where he called on Rudi Dutschke, still in the hospital, and reported that Dutschke was able to talk politics, but couldn't remember such words as table and chair.

It's ironic that Marcuse was invited to deliver the feature address in memory of Karl Marx, since his student proteges now denounce "communism as bourgeois" and since he has been excommunicated by Pravda for preaching that Marxism is out of date.

For instance, the East German government, wanting to embarrass West Germany, invited the West German students, followers of Red Rudi and Prof. Marcuse, to travel through East Germany, supplying them with special railroad cars. The invitation boomeranged. The West German students flaunted banners taunting the East German government with following outmoded Communism.

Marcuse, now 70, fled Germany in 1934, two years after Hitler came into power. Today in his former country he is charged with advocating "dynamic Maoism," and with inspiring left-wing students of the "new left" against Axel Springer and the Bonn government.

It is sometimes said of Marcuse that the students who follow him haven't the slightest idea what he means. Personally he is charming, even lovable. He

THE STUFF OF GREATNESS
ONE OF the most persistent delusions among Americans of good will is the theory that "have-not" nations of the world are only waiting to take off as soon as the developed nations give them enough "infrastructure" and know-how.

Infrastructure is defined as those basic foundation stones—irrigation dams, electric power, roads, and railways—without which know-how cannot operate. There's obviously no point in putting in a cement plant if its machinery can't run nor its product get to market.

BUT WE have been assured that if we are sufficiently generous these nations will soon reach the point where they will generate their own prosperity. To this end the American government had given away—not counting loans or military assistance—$57 billion.

The happy results of Western Europe under the Marshall Plan and the resurgence of war-wrecked Japan have often been cited as proof of the theory. Alas, it was no proof at all. It merely proved that the Western Europeans and the Japanese were capable of taking advantage of the aid and making it work.

GUNNAR MYRDAL, the Swedish sociologist, whose record as a long-time socialist abhors him of any charge of Horatio Algerism, this spring published a three-volume work, "Asian Drama: An Inquiry Into the Poverty of Nations." He concludes that until most "underdeveloped" nations change their basic habit patterns aid will be largely futile.

Myrdal points to corruption, mismanagement and superstition—not the lack of infrastructure and know-how—as chains which these people are dragging.

MUCH has been written about the "rising expectations" of primitive lands. This means that as backward peoples get beings elsewhere own automobiles, refrigerators and nice houses the hut-dwellers want to know why they can't have these things, too.

While Sukarno was leading Indonesia down the path of bankruptcy, with ostentatious public works and fantastic corruption he had the impudence to remark, "Indonesians have not rising expectations, but rising demands!"

When primitive civilizations begin to develop a taste for cars, they must either produce enough of value to earn the exchange to buy cars, or someone must give them cars. A Pan Am spokesman explained to us that it was "a demonstration flight."

Indonesian industrial progress has come through the discovery of more efficient use of labor and the conservation of time. Other nations can learn it, too. But they won't learn it by shaking their begging bowls.

NATIONAL greatness isn't produced by throwing money at a country. National greatness involves practical ways of getting the job done.

There is hope, of course. Years ago Stuart Chase told of the little Mexican boy, when the fiesta would start. He replied, "Right now, at 2 or o'clock."

MEADOW BROOK

The brook runs quietly now. Grass is thick on the banks above slow-moving water. Clumps of alders and willows shade peaceful pools. One can barely discern the current on a quiet, sun-lit day while bobolinks dart back and forth above the green fields.

A few weeks ago the water rushed full between brown banks. It showed the urgency of highland streams that tumbled down steep hillsides to the meadow. It seethed and swirled over rocky spots, and the steady pressure undercut banks where muskrats are now building new tunnel homes.

Every man should have a brook in his life. Even as a man can spend years studying a single massive tree through the seasons and not learn all its secrets, so can one spend hours by a meadow brook and never come to intimate knowledge of all its moods.

No two brooks sing the same music; no two are alike in all physical characteristics. But meadow brooks in early summer have certain traits in common. They speak of a purpose fulfilled; they offer peace to him who is wearied of the market place. Beside a meadow brook one can listen to quiet music and sense the underlying verities of a natural world. A meadow brook is not spectacular. But the countryman thinks as he watches and listens that life's deepest satisfactions are most often realized without superlatives.

A man's idea of a good time is to be an actor and not have to kiss his own wife as the leading lady.

Why worry about money? It will go away before you know it.

Citing rapidly accelerating labor costs and spiraling material prices, the chief executives of 15 major U. S. railroads told the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington that both service to the public at home and to our armed forces overseas will be severely jeopardized unless freight rates are promptly increased. They urged the Commission to approve modest but essential increases in freight rates and charges to provide adequate funds for running and improving the nation's railroads.

If you want to keep your friends, you must occasionally leave them alone.

It is surprising how many people there are in every town who violate city ordinances.

NO TIME FOR AN EXCUSE

What happened last week in Jefferson City when the Governor of Missouri opened a special session of the General Assembly is fairly typical of every legislative session in our state capital.

One of the main points of interest, at least from the standpoint of metropolitan legislators, was the need to solve the fiscal problems of St. Louis and Kansas City. This problem has been around for so long that any Jefferson City newsman worth his salt can write a story on the dilemma by pulling one out of his files of a year ago, five years ago, or even 25 years ago. Only the names and amounts are different.

The cities of this state are in bad shape - and no one knows it any better than the city politicians who caused the problems to begin with. The cities create many of their own problems and then blame the state legislature for not solving municipal foul-ups. Everyone in the cities conveniently forgets to mention that legislatures are supposed to deal with state-wide problems, not municipal ones, particularly those they didn't cause to begin with.

When Governor Hearnes convened the special session he, in effect, told the metropolitan legislators to devise any bills necessary that would solve their dilemmas. And what happened? The big-city boys cried that they hadn't been given enough time to come up with any bills. It was probably the only thing they could think of, but the explanation ranks right along with former Governor Smith's remark that he only discussed fishing when he met one time with the late Kansas City gangster Charlie Binaggio.

The cities' fiscal problems have been around for a long time and no one lacked adequate preparation. The metropolitan lawmakers only lacked time to think up a better excuse.

"I'M A DAMN FOOL"

"These people don't want to work."

This was the acid comment of James H. Clark, a Negro plumbing firm owner who single-handedly tried to install a sewer pipe into Resurrection City in Washington recently.

Clark rented ditchdigging equipment, did the work free. When he asked camp officials for some help in his volunteer project, no one came forward. A crowd of tent-city residents gathered around, but none would help. The sewer line was intended to prevent showers from making a quagmire of the camp grounds.

According to reports, as Clark labored on, alone, he spied a Poor Marcher and offered him a shovel. "Brother, I came down here to get away from shovels," was the reply. Desperate, Clark sought out camp officials to get the ditch filled. A bullhorn advised residents of the need for quick action. Nobody volunteered. The rains came. The ditch banks caved in. The trench became a mudhole. Clark finally said, "I am a damn fool."

One of the alleged aims of Resurrection City residents is the creation of three million new jobs. One steel company executive offered to get one of the residents a job in an Ohio foundry. The potential employee's wife said that he should have an executive job and not have to start in the mill, although the man admitted he had no skills.

We are beginning to understand why the Poor People's campaign isn't gaining support from most Americans - for it is just another handout which politicians brought on themselves with their promises.

The real solution in helping all people as well as the poor people includes work and more work.

POLLUTION—FREE CARS HELD GOAL
Chairman Albert L. Nickerson of Mobil Oil Corp., told stockholders at the company's annual meeting recently in Los Angeles that the gasoline-powered, piston-engine automobile will be made essentially pollution-free before electric cars can be made practical.

The most nearly practical car that could be built today, Mr. Nickerson said, would probably be smaller than present-day compacts, would be able to travel no more than 50 miles without recharging, and would require several hours to recharge. It would have a top speed of 40 miles an hour, and probably would cost at least $1,000 more than present-day small cars.

In contrast to this, he continued, research is proceeding to make the piston engine, "with all of its convenience, high performance characteristics, and relatively low cost, virtually pollution-free."

"Our specific objective," he asserted, "is to achieve markedly lower pollution levels than the standards California has proposed for 1970, which are the toughest anywhere."

The Britisher decided to pull the tale on his countryman: "My parents had a baby. It wasn't my brother or my sister. Who was it?"

His friend gave up and the joker came back with the solution: "The room clerk at the New Yorker Hotel."

WHERE NUCLEAR POWER IS SAFE

public safety? Numbers of people, whose minds hold vivid pictures of the destructive force of atomic bombs, apparently believe that.

An Editors Outlook

By Jenkin Lloyd Jones

THE STUFF OF GREATNESS
ONE OF the most persistent delusions among Americans of good will is the theory that "have-not" nations of the world are only waiting to take off as soon as the developed nations give them enough "infrastructure" and know-how.

Infrastructure is defined as those basic foundation stones—irrigation dams, electric power, roads and railways—without which know-how can't operate. There's obviously no point in putting in a cement plant if its machinery can't run nor its product get to market.

BUT we have been assured that is we are sufficiently generous these nations will soon reach the point where they will generate their own prosperity. To this end the American government had given away—not counting loans or military assistance—$57 billion.

The happy results of Western Europe under the Marshall Plan and the resurgence of war-wrecked Japan have often been cited as proof of the theory. Alas, it was no proof at all. It merely proved that the Western Europeans and the Japanese were capable of taking advantage of the aid and making it work.

GUNNAR Myrdal, the Swedish sociologist, whose record as a long-time socialist absolutes him of any charge of Horatio Algerism, this spring published a three-volume work, "Asian Drama: An Inquiry Into the Poverty of Nations."

He concludes that until most "underdeveloped" nations change their basic habit patterns aid will be largely futile.

Myrdal points to corruption, mismanagement and superstition—not the lack of infrastructure and know-how—as chains which these people are dragging.

MUCH has been written about the "rising expectations" of primitive lands. This means that as backward peoples get word that millions of human beings elsewhere own automobiles, refrigerators and nice houses the hut-dwellers want to know why they can't have these things, too.

While Sukarno was leading Indonesia down the path of bankruptcy with ostentatious public works and fantastic corruption he had the impudence to remark, "Indonesians have not rising expectations, but rising demands!"

When primitive civilizations begin to develop a taste for cars they must either produce enough of value to earn the exchange to buy cars, or someone must give them cars. A giveaway car is unrequited labor. Nobody works for nothing very long. Therefore, in the long run, rising demands or expectations can be satisfied only by rising productivity and increased per capita income.

IN MOST parts of the world where the economy is working badly one finds money hoarded, internal risk capital wanting, taxes levied chiefly on the poor, government morals abysmal and the tradition of labor-for-the-educated extremely feeble.

In India the young man lucky enough to go beyond secondary school generally wants to be a government official or a white-collar manager. He doesn't want overalls and greasy fingers although it is at the technician level that India's skill shortage is most acute.

John Fischer of Harper's magazine, commenting on Myrdal's book, recalls an Indian famine he witnessed where the trains couldn't bring in enough rice because they were hauling horses and fodder for the Calcutta racing season. But as long as Indian population goes up at more than 12 million net a year only certain disaster looms even if the trains are properly loaded.

SOME thoughtful Indians have wondered if the infusion of American grain at the rate of a shipload a day hasn't delayed until fatally late a facing-up to reality. This may require more generous bonuses for men willing to undergo sterilization rather than grandiose schemes of salvation through industry.

Myrdal attacks the intellectuals of the West for their general refusal to come to grips with self-defeating social customs and deeply ingrained political boodle in backward lands.

You don't build a viable modern nation under sacred-cow mentality. Social experiments feed the bureaucracy, but are full of slippage and cumshaw. Under political pressure, or nationalized Indian steel mill was built 400 miles from its source of fuel.

NATIONAL greatness isn't produced by throwing money at a country. National greatness involves practical ways of getting the job done.

There is hope, of course. Years ago Stuart Chase did a book, "The Little Mexican Boy," when the fiesta would start. He replied, "Right now, at 2 or o'clock."

Mexico's current rapid industrial progress has come about through the discovery of more efficient use of labor and the conservation of time. Other nations can learn it, too. But they won't learn it by shaking their begging bowls.

Birthday Party For Betty Warren

Mrs. Betty Warren was honored Thursday with a birthday party in her home at 641 East Gladys, given by her sister, Miss Bobbie West.

The West children sang "Happy Birthday" and Mrs. Warren received gifts and cards.

A cake decorated with blue and white roses centered the table. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served by Mrs. Lucille West.

Miss McTigue Bride of Bobby Ditto

EAST PRAIRIE—The wedding of Miss Brenda Carol McTigue to Bobby Gene Ditto was solemnized last Saturday at 5 p.m. at the First Christian Church by the Rev. Don Woodstock.

Miss Martha Jean Gregory, accompanied at the organ by Miss Kathy Lucas, sang "Because" and at the close of the ceremony as the couple knelt, "The Lord's Prayer."

A 15 branch arch candelabra entwined with white mums and greenery and centered with an arrangement of white mums, adorned the chancel rail to which the bride was escorted by her father. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fremont McTigue and the bridegroom is the son of Golden Ditto, all of East Prairie.

For her wedding, the former Miss McTigue chose a street length gown fashioned of white linen in the A-line design, featuring full length sleeves of chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil of double illusion was attached to a white satin pill box. Her bridal bouquet was a cluster of white orchids attached to a white bible.

Miss Pam Hale, maid of honor, wore a street length empire style dress of pink linen accented by white lace insertions at the neckline and hem. Her fingertip veil of pink tulle was attached to a circlet of pink satin. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds.

Ditto chose as his best man, Gary Risenhoover.

The flower girl was Karen Helms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helms. She was dressed in pink organza and carried a basket of white rose petals. Ringbearer was Keith Chappell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Chappell. Serving as ushers were the bride's brothers, Bobby and Monty McTigue.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the church dining hall. The brides table laid with white linen was centered with a Bride Doll, graced on either side by pink tapered silver candelabra. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Ronnie Parker. Assisting in serving during the reception was Miss Teresa Givens. The guest book attendant was Mrs. Jerry Keene.

The new Mrs. Ditto graduated from East Prairie High School in May. Mr. Ditto attended East Prairie high school and is now employed in Moline, Ill. where the young couple are now at home.

The POWER of FAITH

Amos, third of the minor prophets in the canon of the Old Testament, was the social reformer, concerned with social behavior and ethics. He rebelled against the oppression of the poor by the powerful, against social immorality, intemperance and corruption.

He did not refer to God as the "God of Israel" but as the "Lord of Hosts." He believed that all nations were equal in the eyes of God and that Israel did not stand higher with God than the Ethiopians. (Amos 9:7)

He was a simple man, a shepherd and tender of fig trees. He lived with nature and had time to observe and contemplate the natural laws of God. It has been thought that Amos, with all his wrath, was a prophet of doom. But in Chapter 9 of the Book of Amos he prophesied the history of the Jew to the present day.

God said to him, "For lo, I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations like as corn is sifted in a sieve..." and He concluded, "...and I will bring again the captivity of My people of Israel and they shall build the waste cities and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God."

WANTED: MAN WITH EXPERIENCE

Experience is the actual living through of an event or events. One of the greatest problems of modern Christendom is too many substitute formal participation in religious activities for a personal relationship with Christ. Religion, then, loses vitality and becomes a meaningless treadmill. Why not try an experiment of faith and turn your life over to Christ? If He is real, He will certainly reveal Himself to you.

Tourney Field Down to Four Semi-Finals Set Tonight

Only four teams remain in the running for the championship of the Babe Ruth invitational baseball tournament after last night's action finished off quarterfinal round play at VFW stadium.

Charleston and Libbourn won, Charleston out-slugging Scott City 14-8 and Libbourn checking Cairo 9-5.

Tonight's action is centered around semifinal play. The two winners will battle Sunday at 4:30 p.m. for the title.

Opening tonight's action will be Chaffee against Sikeston at 7 p.m. Chaffee is the defending champion.

The second game will pit Charleston against Libbourn. Sunday's action gets underway at 2 p.m. with the consolation game.

Following the championship game trophies will be awarded, the announcement of the tournament's most valuable player will be made and the sportsmanship trophy will be awarded.

Backed by a 12-hit attack, Charleston pitcher Alan Chaney last night scattered Scott City hits.

Six extra base hits were collected, three on each side, all doubles.

Phil Hillis took the second game for Libbourn, allowing eight hits, including two triples.

Libbourn managed seven safeties off losing pitcher Brian Hodges, including three by the clean-up hitting David Printz, who collected two runs batted in.

Manager Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox is sure of only one thing when he leads the American League against the National League in the All-Star Game at Houston Tuesday night.

Williams is certain he will have seven pitchers. What pitching condition they'll be in only time will tell.

"We'll be well represented at Houston," Williams said Thursday after being told of a statement by Danny McLain of the Detroit Tigers.

McLain, the league's only 15-game winner, said Wednesday night that the Detroit pitching rotation calls for him to go Sunday. He said if he pitches then he will be unable to pitch in the All-Star Game.

"We'll make adjustments, I'm sure, but this is something I think should be handled by Mr. Cronin's office," Williams said. He referred to A.L. President Joe Cronin, who was not available for comment.

Williams said that as of the moment Luis Tiant of Cleveland will be the starting pitcher. He added, "However, it all depends on who pitches Sunday, the type of games pitchers are in and how long they go."

Williams had to make a shift in his All-Star staff Thursday when his ace, Jose Santiago, had to leave a game with Oakland in the third inning because of tendonitis in the right elbow.

Subject to approval by Cronin, Williams named right-hander Gary Bell, owner of a 6-3 record and a 2.73 earned run average, to replace Santiago, who must rest his ailing arm.

Area motorcycle riders are invited to participate in a group ride followed by competition events and a picnic.

Begin gathering at H & J Motor Sales, Inc., parking lot at 1:00 p.m., and leave from there at 1:30 on the dot! Detailed instructions will be posted on the front door so late-comers may join the group at the competition site.

Each motorcycle will be given a competition number tag and registered for all events upon payment of one dollar (at the parking lot before the scheduled 1:30 departure). Late-comers may pay, receive numbers and be registered at the competition site.

Awards will be given for each event, and one event will feature a rider-passenger team.

Floyd Patterson gets a chance in September to become a heavyweight boxing champion for the third time.

The New Yorker signed Thursday to meet Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title.

The fight will be held in the 52,000-seat Raasunda soccer stadium with Ellis defending the WBA crown he won last April by defeating Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

That was the final of the WBA elimination tourney to determine a successor to Cassius Clay.

Clay was stripped of title recognition by the WBA and the New York Athletic Commission when he refused military induction into the U.S. armed forces.

The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom.

Saint quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Cards Take Giants 4-3
Hold Nine Game Lead

By The Associated Press The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds came up with some late-inning lightning Friday night but the thunder belonged to the Houston Astros. And when the day's schedule was over it looked as though the National League standings.

The league-leading Cards tied the score with two out in the ninth inning, then edged San Francisco 4-3 on Tim McCarver's run-scoring single in the 12th.

A two-run double by Lee May in the 12th gave the Reds a 2-0 triumph over Los Angeles. And the light-hitting Astros exploded for five runs with two out in the ninth and outslugged Atlanta 13-9.

In another night game, Chris Short and the Philadelphia Phillies polished off the New York Mets 3-1. Bob Veale spun a twohitter as Pittsburgh downed the Chicago Cubs 4-0 in an afternoon contest.

Tourney Field Down to Four Semi-Finals Set Tonight

Only four teams remain in the running for the championship of the Babe Ruth invitational baseball tournament after last night's action finished off quarterfinal round play at VFW stadium.

Charleston and Lilbourn won, Charleston out-slugging Scott City 14-8 and Lilbourn checking Cairo 9-5.

Tonight's action is centered around semifinal play.

The two winners will battle Sunday at 4:30 p.m. for the title.

Opening tonight's action will be Chaffee against Sikeston at 7 p.m. Chaffee is the defending champion.

The second game will pit Charleston against Lilbourn.

Sunday's action gets underway at 2 p.m. with the consolation game. Following the championship game trophies will be awarded, the announcement of the tournament's most valuable player will be made and the sportsmanship trophy will be awarded.

Backed by a 12-hit attack, Charleston pitcher Alan Chaney last night scattered Scott City hits.

Six extra base hits were collected, three on each side, all doubles.

Phil Hillis took the second game for Lilbourn, allowing eight hits, including two triples.

Lilbourn managed seven safeties off losing pitcher Brian Hodges, including three by the clean-up hitting David Prince, who collected two runs batted in.

in the first inning and one in the sixth for three of the eight runs.

NFL Players-Owners One Demand Away

Only one demand seems to be preventing settlement of the feud between the National Football League Players Association and NFL club owners.

After days of rumors, NFL players Friday, for the first time openly, threatened to strike unless their demands for a pension plan are met.

John Gordy, all-pro offensive guard with the Detroit Lions and president of the players association, said in a statement, "As long as the owners refuse to resolve the pension problems, we have no choice but to take appropriate action."

Another players' spokesman said appropriate action meant a strike.

Howard Mudd of the San Francisco 49ers said, "The offer on the owners' part is not satisfactory. Our demand is not unreasonable."

Mudd spoke to Don Yehl of the Midland, Mich., Daily News in a telephone interview from his home in Redwood City, Calif. Mudd played prep football in Midland.

He said professional baseball players currently get $1,100 monthly at age 66 while NFL players with at least five years of experience are given $450.

Gordy and others who met last weekend at Detroit with owners' representatives reportedly asked for contributions of $100,000 from each of the 16 NFL clubs to swell the pension account. The figure was reportedly too high for the owners.

However, Mudd was optimistic about a settlement of the dispute. "The end is in sight," he said.

His 49ers hope to open their rookie camp next week. Other teams have scheduled later opening dates.

Vince Lombardi, general manager of the Green Bay Packers, said Friday night in a television interview in Green Bay he hopes personal discipline will dissuade NFL players from a strike which could keep summer training camps idle.

It was Lombardi's first public comment on the salary and pension talks since they began. Lombardi said owners have agreed to 21 of 22 demands of the players.

A Packers' players spokesman said players would not report to training camp July 19 unless all demands are met.

Meanwhile, Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, suggested the NFL consider suspending operations this year because of the threatened strike.

Rosenbloom told the Baltimore Evening Sun that if the league suspended operation for one year, the players "would realize what they are missing."

Bob Lurtsema, a starting defensive tackle with the New York Giants, told the Midland Daily News Friday that three of the four major demands had been met, with the exception of being the pension issue.

Lurtsema, who works during the off season in Midland, said a settlement has been reached whereby second year men will receive a minimum salary of $12,000 and third year men $13,000.

There are no announced meetings between players and owners in efforts to solve the pension squabble. Owners reportedly do not oppose the idea of a pension plan, but the amount of money involved is in dispute.

The New Yorker signed Thursday to meet Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title.

The fight will be held in the 52,000-seat Rasmussen stadium with Ellis defending the WBA crown he won last April by defeating Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

That was the final of the WBA elimination tourney to determine a successor to Cassius Clay.

Clay was stripped of title recognition by the WBA and the New York Athletic Commission when he refused military induction into the U.S. armed forces.

The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom. The Saints are to report that.

Saints quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Manager Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox is sure of only one thing when he leads the American League against the National League in the All-Star Game at Houston Tuesday night.

Williams is certain he will have seven pitchers. What pitching condition they'll be in only time will tell.

"We'll be well represented at Houston," Williams said Thursday after being told of a statement by Danny McLain of the Detroit Tigers.

McLain, the league's only 15-game winner, said Wednesday night that the Detroit pitching rotation calls for him to go Sunday. He said if he pitches then he will be unable to pitch in the All-Star Game.

"We'll make adjustments, I'm sure, but this is something I think should be handled by Mr. Cronin's office," Williams said.

He referred to AL President Joe Cronin, who was not available for comment.

Williams said that as of the moment Luis Tiant of Cleveland will be the starting pitcher. He added, "However, it all depends on who pitches Sunday, the type of games pitchers are in and how long they go."

Williams had to make a shift in his All-Star staff Thursday when his ace, Jose Santiago, had to leave a game with Oakland in the third inning because of tendonitis in the right elbow.

Subject to approval by Cronin, Williams named right-hander Gary Bell, owner of a 6-3 record and a 2.73 earned run average, to replace Santiago, who must rest his ailing arm.

Area motorcycle riders are invited to participate in a group ride followed by competition events and a picnic.

Begin gathering at H & J Motor Sales, Inc., parking lot at 1:00 p.m., and leave from there at 1:30 on the dot! Detailed instructions will be posted on the front door so late-comers may join the group at the competition site.

July 7, 1968

Each motorcycle will be given a competition number tag and registered for all events upon payment of one dollar (at the parking lot before the scheduled 1:30 departure). Late-comers may pay, receive numbers and be registered at the competition site.

Awards will be given for each event, and one event will feature a rider-passenger team. We recommend appropriate clothing. No Hell's Angels, okay?

The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds came up with some late-inning lightning Friday night but the thunder belonged to the Houston Astros. And when the day's schedule over it looked as though an earthquake had struck the National League standings.

Monastery Wedged into Cliff

THE GREEK ORTHODOX MONASTERY near Wadi Qelt is perched in the cliffside of a 600-foot gorge. Built 1,438 years ago, the monastery now houses eight monks.

JERICHO, Israeli-held Jordan (AP) — Three Middle East wars have whirled almost unnoticed around the hermit monks of Wadi Qelt.

They live in a remote monastery wedged into the cliffside of a 600-foot gorge in the desolate hills around Jericho.

The blue domes and pale adobe huts of the Greek Orthodox monastery of St. George were built 1,438 years ago by a Cypriot saint with money supplied by Byzantine Emperor Justinian. It once accommodated 600 monks, says the local guide-cook-handyman, a short, smiling Greek with snowy white hair, who prefers to remain anonymous.

About 300 were slaughtered by an invading Persian army in 614 A.D. Gradually the rest drifted away and today only eight remain. These work in nearby Jericho, in orange groves, and live in caves gouged out of the cliffside above the monastery.

Here they sleep, meditate and write.

Only a handful of visitors — mostly school children on tour — make the 45-minute walk down the narrow donkey path to the monastery. This path can be reached only with a strong car, via an ancient, bumpy, pot-holed, Roman-built road.

The monks themselves don't mind visitors, but refuse to be photographed. Women are permitted to visit the monastery, but not to stay there.

The father of the monastery, who is called St. George, has been living in a cave for 19 years.

He descends once a week to pray in the tiny chapel, decorated by frescoes and chandeliers from the 6th and 13th century, and smelling of incense.

The only sound to be heard at the monastery is the thunder of water down a stone aqueduct to the city of Jericho, 11 miles to the east.

The monks have lived under four different rulers in the past 600 years, and they say none of them has ever tried to interfere with their uneventful way of life.

"Nobody make trouble here," muttered the guide, who hasn't left the monastery for eight years. "Can't even get here."

QUICK QUIZ

Q—How did sailors come to be called "tars"?

A—In the days of sailing ships, sailors used to wear garments made of tarpaulin. This was a tar-impregnated cloth that was one of the first water-resistant fabrics. Sailors were first nicknamed "tarpaulins," which was soon shortened to "tars."

County of Scott and the State of Missouri, in Book 157, Page 43, conveyed to the undersigned Trustee the following described real estate situated in the County of Scott and the State of Missouri, to-wit:

All of Lot Numbered Five (5) of the Subdivision of Numbered Thirty-three (33) of Lillian A. Smith Addition East of Sikeston, Missouri, as shown by the Plat of said Subdivision filed for record in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds of Scott County, Missouri, on April 15th, 1941, at 4:10 o'clock P.M., and shown in record in Plat Book No. 6, at Page No. 32 thereof. Subject to all rights of way and easements, if any, affecting the same.

Which conveyance was made to the undersigned in trust to secure the payment of a certain Promissory Note in said Deed specified; and WHEREAS, said note is now past due and remains unpaid default having been made in the payment of said note.

NOW, THEREFORE, at the request of the legal holder of said Note and in pursuance of the conditions of said Deed of Trust, the undersigned Trustee will sell the property above described at public venue to the highest bidder for cash at the Main Front door of the Circuit Court House in the City of Benton, Scott County, Missouri, on July 23, 1968, between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M., for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness and the cost of executing this trust.

A resolution declaring the necessity for the construction of 1 1/2" hotmix asphaltic pavement on 6" soil cement base with concrete curb and gutters on Lions Street from Malone Street to the intersection of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, in accordance with plans and specifications in the City of Sikeston, Missouri, stating the nature of the improvement; the estimated cost and providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: Section 1: That the Council of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said Street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, and that the nature and scope of the improvement shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. Section 2: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $4.60 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. Section 3: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $4.60 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. Section 4: That payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the State of Missouri and the ordinances of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the City Council the General Revenue fund of the City of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefrom to pay for the improvement. Section 5: That any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the State of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. Section 6: That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this Resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Read the first, second and third times and passed and approved this 1st day of July, 1968.

SUPERSTRAINER is really an eight-foot-diameter radar antenna. Protruding rods, like those held by Joyce Molkey, are energy feeds that will extend from each of the more than 16,000 holes in the scaled-down prototype.

Monastery Wedged into Cliff

THE GREEK ORTHODOX MONASTERY near Wadi Qelt is perched in the cliffside of a 600-foot gorge. Built 1,438 years ago, the monastery now houses eight monks.

JERICHO, Israeli-held Jordan (AP) — Three Middle East wars ago by a Cypriot saint with money supplied by Byzantine Emperor Justinian. It once accommodated 600 monks, says the local guide-cook-handyman, a short, smiling Greek with snowy white hair, who prefers to remain anonymous.

About 300 were slaughtered by an invading Persian army in 614 A.D. Gradually the rest drifted away and today only eight remain. These work in nearby Jericho, in orange groves, and live in caves gouged out of the cliffside above the monastery.

Here they sleep, meditate and write. Only a handful of visitors — mostly school children on tour — make the 45-minute walk down the narrow donkey path to the monastery. This path can be reached only with a strong car, via an ancient, bumpy, pot-holed, Roman-built road.

The monks themselves don't mind visitors, but refuse to be photographed. Women are permitted to visit the monastery, but not to stay there.

The father of the monastery, who is called St. George, has been living in a cave for 19 years. He descends once a week to pray in the tiny chapel, decorated by frescoes and chandeliers from the 6th and 13th century, and smelling of incense.

The only sound to be heard at the monastery is the thunder of water down a stone aqueduct to the city of Jericho, 11 miles to the east.

The monks have lived under four different rulers in the past 60 years, and they say none of them has ever tried to interfere with their uneventful way of life.

"Nobody make trouble here," muttered the guide, who has n't left the monastery for eight years. "Can't even get here."

QUICK QUIZ

Q—How did sailors come to be called "tars"?

A—In the days of sailing ships, sailors used to wear garments made of tarpaulin. This was a tar-impregnated cloth that was one of the first water-resistant fabrics. Sailors were first nicknamed "tarpaulins," which was soon shortened to "tars."

WANT ADS!

The Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo. Saturday, July 6, 1968

providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: Section 1: That the Council of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said Street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the City of Sikeston. Section 2: That the nature and scope of the improvement shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. Section 3: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $4.60 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. Section 4: That payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the State of Missouri and the ordinances of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the City Council the General Revenue fund of the City of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefor to pay for the improvement. Section 5: That any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the State of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. Section 6: That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this Resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Read the first, second and third times and passed and approved this 1st day of July, 1968.

Ann Landers

Daughter Can't Change Isolation of Father

Dear Ann Landers: I will be 16 in three weeks. My problem is my father. He has said exactly three things to me in the last five years. Please don't think I am exaggerating because I can tell you what they were.

The day after Christmas in 1963 he said, "Get off your fat rump and clean up the house. Or do you plan to let the boxes and wrapping paper lie around till next year?"

On January 2, 1964 he said, "I don't care if it was our party. Clean up the house."

I have tried to start a conversation with him many times but he ignores me or talks to me through someone else. For example, if I say, "How come your son don't match?" he'll say to my mother, "What is she bugging me about anyway?"

Please tell me how to deal with this problem. When I see other kids carry on conversations with their fathers I get very unhappy. -- IGNORED

Dear Ignored: Accept the fact that your father is not a communicator -- probably never was and never will be. You are not going to change him so you'd better change your attitude. I feel sorry for a man who is so walled off from his children that he can't even speak to them. And one day I hope you will understand how said this years. Please don't think I am exaggerating because I can tell you what they were.

Dear Ann Landers: I feel like I've been hit by a 10-ton truck. Please help me to understand what has happened to me.

Peter and I went together for nearly three years. We are not teen-agers -- far from it. I am 25, Peter is 27. For the past two years I dated him and no one else. So far as I know, he was completely faithful to me also. Last February he gave me a diamond. We planned to be married in August.

We've been apartment hunting and made honeymoon plans. I've been buying linens and china.

Last night after dinner I felt something caught between my two front teeth. I took a toothpick and tried to dislodge what must have been a piece of chicken. Peter suddenly jumped out of his chair and said, "The wedding is off! I could never marry a woman whose manners are so poor that she would use a toothpick in my presence."

He then launched into a tirade about my upbringing and how all of a sudden he saw me as I really am -- uncouth, coarse, vulgar and "no lady!"

I burst into tears, handed him his ring and he left. Please help me understand. I am in a state of shock. -- WILTED ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Dear Wilted: A romance that could be killed by a toothpick wasn't much in the first place. It should be obvious, even in your state of shock, that Peter used the toothpick episode as an excuse to crawl out of the commitment. Accept the fact that he lacks the maturity for marriage and consider yourself lucky to be rid of him.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage -- What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Labor Bulletin

STATE SUMMARY

Wheat harvest completed in Southeast Missouri and is at peak in northern part of the state. Hybrid corn detasseling and milo roguing expected to get underway in Maryville, St. Joseph, Lexington and Marshall areas July 1 with sufficient crews of school youth available for this work.

Local offices made 27 year-round and 913 seasonal agricultural placements last week. Volunteer Representatives made 2 year-round and 94 seasonal placements. Offices report 73 unfilled year-round openings for the week.

Several Southeast Missouri crews are preparing to leave for the Michigan cherry harvest. These offices report male singles available for food processing work.

SOUTHEAST
Sikeston: 202 South Kingshighway - Telephone: Granite 1-2731.

Sikeston area labor in balance, needs limited to normal turnover. Wheat harvest completed and beans following wheat 80% planted. Sweet corn harvest underway with ample labor supply.

Type of Workers Needed: Couples, Wife not Working; Couples, Wife not Working; Unfilled Openings: 3, 2; Wage Range: $50 wk. + house & bonus, $1.25 per hr. + house & bonus.

Farm Labor Information Station & Rest Camp, Route 2, Sikeston.

The Camp served 155 migrants last week with 8 going to Ohio and 147 enroute to Michigan.

West Plains: 111 Walnut Street - Telephone: 256-3158

Local labor demand in balance with surplus of singles for cannery work. Referred two farm hands to out-of-area jobs. Some parts of area received heavy rain and wind. Local turkey farm had several brooder houses damaged.

Poplar Bluff: 211 Pine Street - Telephone: 785-9606

We have 26 workers standing by waiting for cannery work. A good rain this week necessary to bring up beans that follow wheat. Most farmers report that fields are in excellent condition.

Caruthersville: 300 Ward Street - Telephone: Edison 3-2416.

Rain the first of the week was welcomed by most all farmers throughout the area, as some had not had any rain for several weeks. All crops are in good condition. Soybeans planted after wheat are up to a good stand and the prospects for a good soybean crop is excellent. Several crews will be leaving this area during the next two weeks to pick cherries in Michigan.

Type of Workers Needed: farm Equipment Operators; Unfilled Openings: 2; Wage Range: $1.25 Hour & House.

Kennett: 405 St. Francis Street - Telephone: 888-4518.

Local rains slowed cotton chopping two days this week. Six crews are kept pretty busy since there is considerably more cotton this year. The cotton crop, in general, is better than first predicted. Some soybean planting after wheat continues in scattered areas. The wheat harvest was completed this week. Most areas averaged 30 bushels per acre. Local showers and warm temperatures have been good for melons. The crop looks very good, especially in the Clarkton-Holcomb area.

Students and housewives continue to fill the labor demand. At this time the supply is adequate. The harvest of Dixie Red Variety peaches will get underway next week. One orchard in the south part of the County picked some this week. If nothing happens, there will be a real good crop of peaches, especially the August crop.

Cape Girardeau: 231 North Main Street - Telephone: Edgewater 5-6666.

Rain has delayed farm activity for past few days. Labor supply and demand in balance for local area. Still have need for cannery workers for the State of Wisconsin.

Five Named To Dean's List
Two Sikeston students have been named to the dean's list of the school of journalism, University of Missouri, Columbia, for the 1967-1968 winter semester.

They are Terry Vaughn Johnson, 403 Dorothy St. and David Lynn Urban, 215 Tanner.

Other area students on the list are John Harlan Mueller and Susan Jane Smith of Cape Girardeau, and Alfred Neal Berry of Poplar Bluff.

Students named to the dean's list must have at least a 3.0 average on a 4.0 scale.

statement apparently was meant as a warning of consequences in event anyone is planning any demonstrations.

Said Weaver: "The University of Missouri will at all times defend the right of free expression of opinion, including the right of peaceful assembly...The university will not allow any unauthorized occupation of university facilities, nor will it permit any interference with its normal and regular activities."

Weaver added the statement applies to all four university campuses - Columbia, Kansas City, St. Louis and Rolla.

Duffner to Malden Church

MALDEN - The Rev. Fr. Ralph J. Duffner is the new pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Malden and St. Mary's Mission in Campbell.

Father Duffner succeeds Rev. William E. Donovan, who is serving the church at St. Teresa's in Glenonville.

Father Duffner is a native St. Louisian. He attended Cardinal Glennon College and the Kenrick Theological Seminary in St. Louis, and was ordained in 1956.

Prior to coming to St. Ann's he served as pastor of St. Susanne's Parish in Mr. Vernon, from 1960-1968, as well as with St. Patrick's Mission in Greenfield.

He also served as chaplain at the Missouri State Sanitarium in Mr. Vernon.

From 1956-1960 he served as associate pastor at St. Mary's Cathedral in Cape Girardeau.

Weaver to Tolerate No Disruptions

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - President John C. Weaver of the University of Missouri warned today the school will not tolerate any unlawful occupation of its buildings or other interference with normal activities.

Weaver, who said his statement had the unanimous support of the nine-member Board of Curators, said any student or employs who tries to disrupt university work faces immediate suspension and risks ultimate dismissal.

The university has had troubles of the type the president discussed, and his

Farm Labor Bulletin

STATE SUMMARY

Wheat harvest completed in Southeast Missouri and is at peak in northern part of the state. Hybrid corn detasseling and milo roguing expected to get underway in Maryville, St. Joseph, Lexington and Marshall areas July 1 with sufficient crews of school youth available for this work.

Local offices made 27 year-round and 913 seasonal agricultural placements last week. Volunteer Representatives made 2 year-round and 94 seasonal placements. Offices report 73 unfilled year-round openings for the week.

Several Southeast Missouri crews are preparing to leave for the Michigan cherry harvest. These offices report male singles available for food processing work.

SOUTHEAST

Sikeston: 202 South Kingshighway - Telephone: Granite 1-2731.

Sikeston area labor in balance, needs limited to normal turnover. Wheat harvest completed and beans following wheat 80% planted. Sweet corn harvest underway with ample labor supply.

Type of Workers Needed: Couples, Wife not Working, Couples, Wife not Working; Unfilled Openings: 3, 2; Wage Range: $50 wk. + house & bonus, $1.25 per hr. + house & bonus.

Farm Labor Information Station & Rest Camp, Route 2, Sikeston.

The Camp served 155 migrants last week with 8 going to Ohio and 147 enroute to Michigan.

West Plains: 111 Walnut Street - Telephone: 256-3158

Local labor demand in balance with surplus of singles for cannery work. Referred two farm hands to out-of-area jobs. Some parts of area received heavy rain and wind. Local turkey farm had several brooder houses damaged.

Poplar Bluff: 211 Pine Street - Telephone: 785-9606

We have 26 workers standing by waiting for cannery work. A good rain this week necessary to bring up beans that follow wheat. Most farmers report that fields are in excellent condition.

Caruthersville: 300 Ward Street - Telephone: Edison 3-2416.

Rain the first of the week was welcomed by most all farmers throughout the area, as some had not had any rain for several weeks. All crops are in good condition. Soybeans planted after wheat are up to a good stand and the prospects for a good soybean crop is excellent. Several crews will be leaving this area during the next two weeks to pick cherries in Michigan.

Type of Workers Needed: farm Equipment Operators; Unfilled Openings: 2; Wage Range: $1.25 Hour & House.

Kennett: 405 St. Francis Street - Telephone: 888-4518.

Local rains slowed cotton chopping two days this week. Six crews are kept pretty busy since there is considerably more cotton this year. The cotton crop, in general, is better than first predicted. Some soybean planting after wheat continues in scattered areas. The wheat harvest was completed this week. Most areas averaged 30 bushels per acre. Local showers and warm temperatures have been good for melons. The crop looks very good, especially in the Clarkton-Holcomb area. Students and housewives continue to fill the labor demand. At this time the supply is adequate. The harvest of Dixie Red Variety peaches will get underway next week. One orchard in the south part of the County picked some this week. If nothing happens, there will be a real good crop of peaches, especially the August crop.

Cape Girardeau: 231 North Main Street - Telephone: Edgewater 5-6666.

Rain has delayed farm activity for past few days. Labor supply and demand in balance for local area. Still have need for cannery workers for the State of Wisconsin.

Weaver to Tolerate No Disruptions

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) - President John C. Weaver of the University of Missouri warned today the school will not tolerate any unlawful occupation of its buildings or other interference with normal activities.

Weaver, who said his statement had the unanimous support of the nine-member Board of Curators, said any student or employs who tries to disrupt university work faces immediate suspension and risks ultimate dismissal.

The university has had troubles of the type the president discussed, and his

Five Named To Dean's List

Two Sikeston students have been named to the dean's list of the school of journalism, University of Missouri, Columbia, for the 1967-1968 winter semester.

They are Terry Vaughn Johnson, 403 Dorothy St. and David Lynn Urban, 215 Tanner.

Other area students on the list are John Harlan Mueller and Susan Jane Smith of Cape Girardeau, and Alfred Neal Berry of Poplar Bluff.

Students named to the dean's list must have at least a 3. grade average on a 4. scale.

Peach Harvest at Peak in Bootheel

CAMPBELL — The peach harvest, which got off to a start the last week in May, is nearing its peak in the Campbell area, according to Carlton Stewart, president of the Southeast Missouri District Peach Council. Stewart and Jim Thornton, secretary of the council, report that Moore's Early Red variety began ripening the latter part of May and the first car lot was shipped on May 29. During June there were a number of varieties which came into harvest including Dixie Red, Cardinal, Jersey Land, Trio Gem, Red Haven and Ranges.

The peach growers, most of whom operate orchards on the famous 10-mile "circle" just north of Campbell, are of the opinion that the harvest this year will equal that of last year. The size of most varieties will not be quite as large as the 1967 crop, Stewart says, mainly because there was an extra heavy bloom and set on of fruit and prices.

There are over 1,000 acres of peach orchards around Campbell. During the past three or four years the acreage has almost doubled.

Most of the fruit is shipped to points north and west. "Our shippers cover a territory that resembles a fan, running southwest to points such as Tulsa and Oklahoma City, west to Wichita, and Denver, north to Kansas City and St. Louis, and east to Chicago," Stewart explained. "Some real late varieties are shipped south where these varieties are not grown or have already been harvested and are in demand."

Peaches which will begin to be harvested next week include such varieties as the early Elbertas, Burbank, Southland and Hale Havens. During late July the Sullivan, Redskin, Snider and Jefferson varieties of Elbertas will be picked and shipped. Then in August will come the most popular peaches of the Elberta, Rioso Gem and Late Reds.

The Campbell area will join in celebrating their main industry with a Peach Festival to be held this year August 6 and 7. This will be the first year in the annual observance that the event will cover two days. There will be a contest for selecting the Little Miss Campbell and the Campbell Peach Queen. The Little Miss Campbell judging will be done on Tuesday night, Aug. 6; there will be music and other types of entertainment all day Wednesday, Aug. 7, with the event climaxed with the Peach Queen Contest that night.

Cotton Bloom At Malden

MALDEN — The first cotton bloom was reported Tuesday by Glen Thompson of Route One. Thompson farms the Vern W. Johnson land about 1 1/4 miles south of Malden on highway 25. The cotton is of the Auburn M variety and was planted April 22.

Thompson stated he had a good stand and expected a high yield.

15 Per Cent Pay Raise for Bluff Employees

POPLAR BLUFF — The City Council adopted a tentative budget, repealed sections of ordinances exempting industrial electric users from the new five per cent gross revenue tax, and passed bills authorizing the paving of 2,675 feet of streets.

The proposed budget of $592,353 is $62,672 over the current operating budget of the city primarily because it includes a 15 per cent pay increase for all non-elected city employees, Mayor Earl C. Porter told the council.

The tentative budget which will be given final approval on July 15, includes a tax levy of $2.10, 10 cents more than last year's levy. The levy increase resulted from the general obligation bonds to finance the new Vine Street Bridge, Mayor Porter said.

Irrigation Tour Set for July 16

A public irrigation tour will be held July 16 on two farms near Blodgett, in Scott County.

The tour will begin at 8:45 a.m. at J. C. Ross' farm, formerly the Sherman McNew farm, to observe a 160-acre valley self-propelled automatic irrigation system.

A Water Witch automatic irrigation system will be observed on a farm operated by A. A. and Jim Johnson.

At noon a lunch will be provided at Benton. Following lunch, a one-hour program on irrigation will be conducted.

The tour is sponsored by the Scott County University extension center and the Scott County Soil and Water Conservation district.

Annexation Vote Tuesday In Charleston

CHARLESTON — Charleston voters will decide next Tuesday whether to annex about 250 acres of land to the city.

Voting will be from 6 a.m. until sunset at the fire station in city hall.

Land to be annexed is all located in the east and southeast end of town, and includes the S & S subdivision, the new high school site, several homes along Highway 62 east, and the proposed Reeves subdivision to be developed north of Word's East Acres.

A declaratory judgment approving the election was issued June 7 by Circuit Judge Marshall Craig.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Why are all animals given reverence in India?

A—Because the people believe in transmigration. This is the belief that when the body dies the soul of a person may be born again into the body of an animal.

Q—Why are pirates called "buccaneers"?

A—The name is said to be derived from "buccan," which in the Caribbean islands meant to dry meat on a frame, or "buccan" over smoke.

Q—When the U.S. Congress is in session, at what hour do the two Houses meet?

A—Both the House and the Senate ordinarily meet at 12 o'clock noon.

A COUNTY ASSET FOR NEW MADRID COUNTY

"AN ALL-AMERICAN COMMUNITY is one which, THROUGH IT'S PUBLIC SCHOOL TRADE EDUCATION PROGRAM has SKILLED LABOR AVAILABLE."

From the Commercial Appeal, Memphis, June 18th, 1968:

"The Memphis Area Vocational Technical School and the State Technical Institute at Memphis are solid evidence that, in the age of Computers, TECHNICAL SCHOOLS are more important than ever. These schools are turning out students from all back grounds with expert training in PRACTICAL SUBJECTS ranging from food marketing to color television, from medical bookkeeping to instrumentation engineering.

The old criticism that "trade schools" train people for obsolete jobs vanishes before the modern curricula of the schools and THE EASE WITH WHICH GRADUATES FIND WELL-PAYING POSITIONS. Employers are benefitting from the creation of efficient workers, and the Community has less "unemployables" and more useful, productive, self-sufficient citizens.

These two fine institutions are giving hundreds of young people what is a necessity in todays world -- A SALABLE SKILL. They deserve the support of all-government, business and citizens-- for they are serving the best interests of all."

The foregoing eloquently expresses the objective of the present movement for a school district large enough to permit the erection and maintenance of such a school, in New Madrid County.

The over-all school board membership should include one representative from each of the converging districts and communities, subject always to the will of the voters. A spirit of good will and sincere desire for better educational opportunity will prevent any abuse of equal representation from over the County.

The undersigned are satisfied that the best interests of each Community will remain adequately provided for on the one County School Board.

Since the next Regular Session of the State Legislature, in 1969, will probably enact a State-wide Master Plan of School Re-Organization, which will have to be accepted in order to get State Aid, and New Madrid County could be cut up and assigned to "Centers of Population" outside our County, thus becoming a Minority Group -- We suggest that it is better for us to congeal and thereby become large enough to meet the requirements of a New Law.

Do you ever wonder how well your crops are responding to your fertility programs? As a service to you, we are sponsoring an ORTHO Crop Health Center. Our ORTHO Agronomist will be here to make tests on one of your crops, such as corn, cotton, milo or soybean. He will analyze for levels of major plant nutrients. From this he can then discuss your program for future yield goals.

Here's what you do:

1. Select 3 plants that represent the one field. (Avoid abnormal plants and soil conditions.)
2. Cut the plants off right at ground level.
3. Bring the freshly cut plants to us.

As a progressive grower, we're confident you will take advantage of this service.

Peach Harvest at Peak in Bootheel

CAMPBELL — The peach harvest, which got off to a start the last week in May, is nearing its peak in the Campbell area, according to Carlton Stewart, president of the Southeast Missouri District Peach Council.

Stewart and Jim Thornton, secretary of the council, report that Moore's Early Red variety began ripening the latter part of May and the first car lot was shipped on May 29. During June there were a number of varieties which came into harvest - including Dixie Red, Cardinal, Jersey Land, Trio Gem, Red Haven and Rangers.

The peach growers, most of whom operate orchards on the famous 10-mile "circle" just north of Campbell, are of the opinion that the harvest this year will equal that of last year. The size of most varieties will not be quite as large as the 1967 crop, Stewart says, mainly because there was an extra heavy bloom and set on of fruit and the trees were not thinned soon enough, in some cases, to aid the fruit in maturing to a good size. Last year a freeze took care of the thinning and, as a result, peaches were extra large in size. This year the weather has had an adverse effect on some orchards - too much rain at some periods and not enough at other times, Stewart reports. The Peach Council has been shipping fruit out three or four times each week during the past month. After the Fourth of July, there will probably be peaches shipped out every day. This will be especially true the latter part of July when the Elberta varieties and other late peaches are harvested and the shipping will be tripled. These late varieties account for about 70 per cent of the annual Campbell crop.

Prices, to date, have been fair, the Peach Council officers declare. They are hoping that the demand will increase and the prices rise and equal last year's prices.

There are over 1,000 acres of peach orchards around Campbell. During the past three or four years the acreage has almost doubled.

Most of the fruit is shipped to points north and west. "Our shippers cover a territory that resembles a fan, running southwest to points such as Tulsa and Oklahoma City, west to Wichita, and Denver, north of Kansas City and St. Louis, and east to Chicago," Stewart explained. "Some real late varieties are shipped south where these varieties are not grown or have already been harvested and are in demand."

Peaches which will begin to be harvested next week include such varieties as the early Elberta, Burbank, Southland and Hale Havens. During late July the Sullivan, Redskin, Snider and Jefferson varieties of Elberta will be picked and shipped. Then in August will come the most popular peaches of the Elberta, Riso Gem and Late Reds.

The Campbell area will join in celebrating their main industry with a Peach Festival to be held this year August 6 and 7. This will be the first year in the annual observance that the event will cover two days. There will be a contest for selecting the Little Miss Campbell and the Campbell Peach Queen. The Little Miss Campbell judging will be done on Tuesday night, Aug. 6; there will be music and other types of entertainment all day Wednesday, Aug. 7, with the event climaxed with the Peach Queen Contest that night.

Cotton Bloom At Malden

MALDEN — The first cotton bloom was reported Tuesday by Glen Thompson of Route One. Thompson farms the Vern W. Johnson land about 14 miles south of Malden on highway 25. The cotton is of the Auburn M variety and was planted April 22. Thompson stated he had a good stand and expected a high yield.

15 Per Cent Pay Raise for Bluff Employees

POPLAR BLUFF — The City Council adopted a tentative budget, repealed sections of ordinances exempting industrial electric users from the new five per cent gross revenue tax, and passed bills authorizing the paving of 2,675 feet of streets. The proposed budget of $592,353 is $62,672 over the current operating budget of the city primarily because it includes a 15 per cent pay increase for all non-elected city employees. Mayor Earl C. Porter told the council.

The tentative budget which will be given final approval on July 15, includes a tax levy of $2.10, 10 cents more than last year's levy. The levy increase resulted from the general obligation bonds to finance the new Vine Street Bridge, Mayor Porter said.

Irrigation Tour Set for July 16

A public irrigation tour will be held July 16 on two farms near Blodgett, in Scott County. The tour will begin at 8:45 a.m. at J. C. Ross' farm, formerly the Sherman McNew farm, to observe a 160-acre valley self-propelled automatic irrigation system. A Water Winch automatic irrigation system will be observed on a farm operated by A. A. and Jim Johnson. At noon a lunch will be provided at Benton. Following lunch, a one-hour program on irrigation will be conducted. The tour is sponsored by the Scott County University extension center and the Scott County Soil and Water Conservation district.
